

COL. LINDBERGH NEAREST DEATH IN CHINA FLOOD

Wife Relates Story of His Narrow Escape in Interior China

New York, Aug. 14.—(AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh has, perhaps, never been nearer death in all his adventurous career than he was one day in 1931 in the Yangtze valley in China—not even on his immortal solo flight to Paris.

The Colonel was on a "errand of mercy" at the time, Anne Morrow Lindbergh says in "North to the Orient," her first book, published today. In it Mrs. Lindbergh tells the story of the 1931 flight to China by way of the Canadian routes, Alaska, Siberia and Japan.

Colonel Lindbergh took off one morning from Nanking for Hing-hwa, in the worst of the flooded district, writes Mrs. Lindbergh, "carrying with him in the plane a Chinese doctor, an American doctor, and several packages of medical supplies."

Few Signs of Life

"In less than an hour they had completed a trip which would have taken days by canal. The plane landed on flooded fields outside the city walls. A few stray sampans were the only signs of life on the calm waters."

The Chinese doctor finally persuaded one sampan to pole up to the plane, and lowered a package containing food; other sampans closed in, their occupants begging pitifully for something to eat.

Desperately the three in the plane tried to keep away the sampans, which threatened to puncture the pontoons. One boat had a fire aboard, and it was dangerously close to a wing of the plane. The crowd increased, and grew sullen. Colonel Lindbergh drew his revolver, but hesitated to use it.

Rushed His Plane

"Suddenly a man stood up and put his foot on the left pontoon," continues Mrs. Lindbergh. "As though at a signal, the rest surged forward. . . they had begun to board."

"My husband . . . whipped the gun from the right side to the left quickly, shooting straight up in the air as he turned. Each side thought someone had been shot on the other. . . Slowly they edged back."

The Chinese doctor had been in a sampan. He fought to reach the plane; three boats sank under him, but he made it. "They were clear, ready to go."

Blocked by Sampan

"No—there was a single sampan just in front of the plane, an old man and an old woman poling it. My husband raised himself up in the cockpit and covered them with his gun. The American doctor . . . shouted, 'Get out of the way! We'll kill you!'"

"They made no move. The old woman looked up sullenly. 'What does it matter?' she said slowly. 'We have nothing.'"

But the colonel missed their boat.

"The pull of a trigger, the press of a switch," concludes Mrs. Lindbergh, "without these, the three magicians flying back to Nanking would have been simply three people in a starved and devastated land."

Missouri Guardsman Facing Manslaughter Charge Before Court

Camp Clark, Nevada, Mo., Aug. 14.—(AP)—Ray Bixler, 19-year-old private in the Missouri National Guard, was summoned before a general court-martial today to answer charges of manslaughter in the slaying of Miss Harriet Hasty, 40, Paragould, Ark.

Thirteen officers here for the annual guard encampment, formed the military tribunal.

Miss Hasty was shot and fatally wounded last March 21 when Bixler, on flood patrol duty along the St. Francis river, attempted to halt her motor car at a bridge approach.

Bixler's defense attorney, Capt. Houston H. Buckley, said accident would be the young private's sole plea.

The defendant was one of two guards stationed at the bridge to warn motorists against driving too fast. Bixler was serving as the far guard and was to fire a shot to warn the other guard in case a motorist failed to yield.

RESCUED FROM FIRE

Chicago—A dozen women trapped in their third floor sleeping quarters by smoke from a $10,000 fire were carried to safety by firemen and police. Other women in the building used as a dormitory for women employees of a hotel, fled without aid. Origin of the fire was undetermined. Two of the rescuers were cut by glass.

POWERS SEEKING WAY TO DELIVER ETHIOPIA CHEAP

—DAVID LLOYD GEORGE

Former British Premier Alleges Perfidy at Paris

London, Aug. 14.—(AP)—Lloyd George in a speech today said the three powers meeting Paris, having been parties to the destruction of the League of Nations, are now discussing "how they can deliver Ethiopia on the cheap to Italy."

"What are they (Britain, France and Italy) discussing?" asked the World War premier in an address to the national trade union club.

"Are they discussing how they are to prevent Mussolini from destroying the independence of a friendly power, which is a member of the League?"

"And that is not all. They are just discussing what measure of economy, strategic and political control can be given to Italy without war. How can they deliver Ethiopia on the cheap to Italy—that is the question being discussed."

The object of the league covenant was to prevent war. Lloyd George said, but "Mussolini said 'if the league is brought in I do not appear.' They accepted that and they wiped out the league as an authority on peace and war."

"The very country whose integrity and independence was challenged has been ruled out from the conference that is discussing its very existence as an independent state."

REPUBLICANS EXPECT TO ELECT MANY TO HOUSE

Campaign Chairman Predicts 75 to 100 of the Party to Succeed

Washington, Aug. 14.—(AP)—Rep. Chester C. Bolton of Ohio, chairman of the Republican congressional campaign committee, forecast today that his party would pick up "at least 75 or 100 house seats" at the next election.

"There is an even chance that we will get a majority," Bolton said. To do this the Republicans would have to gain 112 seats.

Bolton said his committee is conducting a survey of public opinion. County chairmen and other leaders are being interrogated in this connection.

"There is a strong revulsion against the activities of this administration," he said. "We think that this trend will continue. The wealth tax proposal is the last straw. If the administration does not want to cut down its frightful expenditures the only thing left is a broad tax program that will hit everyone. The squawks have already started. People are tired of this spending."

Several Developments

Bolton's statement was one of several developments in political fields here and elsewhere. One was a remark by former Senator George H. Moses (R-NH) that Col. Frank Knox, Chicago publisher, had more support at present for the Republican presidential nomination in 1936 than any other man.

Political observers watched dispatches from Hampton Beach, N. H., where Knox was chosen to address a Republican rally today. Moses also was expected to drop in on that gathering.

Meanwhile, Martin L. Davey, Ohio's Democratic governor, reiterated last night that he opposes calling a special election to fill the congressional vacancy created by the death of Rep. Charles V. Truax (D-O). George Bender, Republican, said he would support a special election.

Shortage of Hogs in Lee County Reflected at 4-H Club Show at Amboy Today; Big Cattle Exhibit

The eleventh annual livestock show of Lee county 4-H clubs opened this morning at the fair grounds east of Amboy. In the midst of the thrashing season, many of the entries expected were unable to attend the show and the shortage of hogs throughout this district materially lessened the number of exhibits in this class. Shortage of feed was also a contributing factor to the marked shortage of the hog entries.

The cattle division was the largest in the history of the showings. A new class was provided for the boys and girls of Lee county today in the showing of beef breeding cattle in which there were a large number of entries. Many of these came from the vicinity of Dixon and there was a marked increase in

SECURITY BILL IS MADE A LAW THIS AFTERNOON

President Signs Bill He Considered of Great Import

Washington, Aug. 14.—(AP)—President Roosevelt called his aides around him today for a little ceremony enacting into law what he considers one of the most important measures passed during his administration—the social security legislation.

The stroke of the pen attaching the presidential signature to the bill was the last formality needed to write into law a measure calling for a new and far-reaching social experiment, and the largest tax program ever approved by congress.

The signing was scheduled for 2:30 P. M. Central Standard time. Indications were that the president would announce quickly the make-up of the social security board which will administer the new law providing for old-age pension and unemployment insurance systems.

Provisions Of Bill

Under the bill employers and employees eventually will be taxed 3 percent each on wages up to $3,000 annually to provide for contributory old age pensions. Benefits range from $10 to $85 a month. The plan becomes operative January 1, 1937, but no pensions would be paid until Jan. 1, 1942.

The bill also sets up a federal state unemployment insurance system to be financed through a 3 percent payroll tax against employers of eight or more persons. The employers would get credit for payments made to state unemployment insurance systems. The credits could not exceed 90 percent of the federal tax. The taxes start Jan. 1, 1936.

An appropriation of $100,000,000 is to be made by the federal government next year to provide for old age and grants to the blind, crippled children and need mothers.

Grant $15 Monthly

In addition, the government will offer grants of $15 a month, to be matched by the states, for needy aged not cared for under the contributory pension system. An appropriation of $40,750,000 for the current fiscal year is authorized for the purpose.

Among those mentioned as possible appointees to the new social security board are Edwin A. Witte, secretary of the president's social security commission which drafted the measure; Jacob Billikopf, Philadelphia social worker, and Miss

Elusive Witness Draws Crowds to House Investigation

The committee room was packed as soon as word was spread about Washington that Howard C. Hopson, long-missing utilities magnate, was to testify before the House lobby investigating committee. Hopson, indicated by arrow, is shown as committee members leaned across the table to catch every word. He testified that the Associated Gas and Electric system made annual gross earnings of $100,000,000, and was expected to be asked to explain how the A. G. E. spent nearly $1,000,000 to beat the Wheeler-Rayburn utilities regulation bill.

THOUSANDS WILL MEET IN AMBOY NEXT THURSDAY

Republicans from Near and Far to Stage Monster Rally

Plans for the gigantic meeting of Republicans of northern Illinois to be held on the Lee County Fair Grounds at Amboy on the afternoon of August 22nd are going forward rapidly. Reports being received from all over the counties adjacent to Lee county are to the effect that thousands of people are planning on attendance at the picnic.

Probably the greatest drawing card for the meeting is the fact that the principle speaker for the day is Mrs. George B. Simmons of Marshall, Missouri. Mrs. Simmons is easily the most sought after political speaker in America today. At the Grass Roots Conference in Springfield she leaped into instant popularity and nationwide prominence. A life-long Democrat, her opposition to the New Deal is sincere and heartfelt. She speaks from a deep conviction. Even those who oppose her views respect her sincerity.

Senator Lantz

Senator Simon Lantz of Congressville will also speak. Senator Lantz has made a name for himself in the upper house of the legislature by his courageous stand for proper farm legislation. He has had the backing of the Farm Bureau. Other speakers of note will be present and there will be no dearth of oratory.

Representative "Ted" Lyons will be on the platform and will electrify his hearers with his broadsides against the spending orgy of the present administration.

A ball game at 1:30 will start the festivities. The Dixon Independents will cross bats with the Compton Oilers. The Dixon boys have not met their superiors this season, but Compton will prove a hard nut to crack. Immediately after the game the speaking will begin. Afterward will come a program of interesting events to occupy the hour until supper time. Then picnic baskets will be opened and picnic supplies enjoyed. The committee will furnish free coffee, iced tea and lemonade.

The picnic is being sponsored by the Republican Central Committee of Lee county. Prominent Republican workers from all parts of the state will be in attendance. Frank Nangle of Pax Paw, chairman of the sub-committee which has the affair in charge stated today that he expected no less than 20,000 people would attend. A free dance in the evening will close the day.

Son of President is Arrested as Speeder

Irrington, N. Y., Aug. 14.—(AP)—John Roosevelt, son of the president, faced a charge of speeding today.

Trapped with several other motorists last night in a police drive on speeders on a newly paved section of the Albany post road, young Roosevelt posted a $10 bond for his appearance.

The policeman who arrested him charged he clocked him at 54 miles an hour for a mile and a half.

Dixon Merchants Announce Biggest Dollar Day Event

In recognition of improved industrial conditions here and to give the fall trade an impetus, many of Dixon's leading merchants are co-operating in what they expect will be the two greatest Dollar Days in years, Friday and Saturday of this week. They have taken special pains in preparing for the two great sales days, to give values of real merit, and their advertisements, carried in this issue of The Telegraph, which goes into every home in the Dixon trading area, will convince thrifty buyers that it will be to their interest to shop in Dixon this week-end. Read them over and you will find that probably not ever in your lifetime have you been able to buy fine quality merchandise at such low figures.

Whether you want an automobile tire or a package of tobacco, or a suit of clothes or a roast of meat or some new dishes or a bed room suite—no matter what you want to buy, you can come to Dixon, Friday and Saturday and find thousands of bargains such as you have never seen before and probably never will see again.

Alleged Wrong House Was Wrecked: Suit Was Filed In Joliet

Joliet, Ill., Aug. 14.—(AP)—If the heirs of Peter Cleary had wanted their house torn down, the job done by Contractor William C. Wolf would have been satisfactory, they indicated today.

But they didn't.

They filed a $5,000 damage suit in Will County Circuit Court, naming as defendants the contractor and three officials of the Tax Securities Corporation of Peoria, which they alleged ordered the house-wrecking.

Attorney Dan Harrington, representing the plaintiffs, charged that the house which the Peoria firm claimed to own on a tax title and wanted razed adjoined that owned by the Cleary family. Both houses were vacant.

F. Methodist Bishop Dies Aboard Train

Laramie, Aug. 14.—(AP)—Bishop Arthur D. Zahniser, 69, head of the Free Methodist church of Pittsburgh, died of a heart attack on a Union Pacific train shortly before it reached Laramie.

Bishop Zahniser, who was accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. C. H. Snyder, of Grand Rapids, Mich., had been conducting church conferences in the northwest.

His body will be forwarded to Greenville, Ill., a former home for burial at 3 P. M. Sunday, Mrs. Snyder said.

Survivors include another daughter, Mrs. E. S. Weidman, of Vandegrift, Pa., and a sister, Mrs. J. M. Van Derlin, of Butler, Pa.

PAINT KILLS BABY

Chicago—The death of Thomas Mulligan, 18-months-old, was attributed by physicians to paint on the woodwork of his crib, which his parents said they saw the child biting.

PARKS DISTRICT COMPTROLLER IS KILLED IN AUTO

Chicago Police Facing a New Mystery in Murder of Official

Chicago, Aug. 14.—(AP)—Shot three times, Kenneth A. Morrison, 46, assistant comptroller of the Chicago Parks District, was found slain early today in his parked automobile.

Police found Morrison seated upright on the rear seat, his legs crossed, a cigarette in his mouth and his straw hat at an angle. Blood flowed from a bullet wound in the right cheek and two other wounds were found in the shoulder and abdomen.

Although at first inclined to the theory that robbery was the motive for the slaying, investigators sought another motive when $22 was found in the victim's pocket. On the seat beside the body, police found his wallet, glasses, pen and pencil and papers.

On the running board of the automobile a small bottle containing a skin renewing preparation was found. Police said the fluid may have been used by the slayers to avoid leaving fingerprints.

Slain Elsewhere

Because they were unable to find any witnesses who had heard the shots, police said they believed Morrison had been slain elsewhere and his body driven to the spot where it was found on the near north side, miles from the victim's home.

Mrs. Anna Blazek told Sgt. James Patterson she noticed the parked car about 10:30 P. M. (CST) last night when the headlights flashed into the windows of her home, near where the body was found. She saw two men jump from the car, she said, and disappear under an elevated railroad structure.

Morrison's second wife, Ethelwyn, reported her husband missing several hours before the body was found.

Little Blood in Car

Beside his widow, Morrison is survived by three children by a former marriage, Donald 20, Mary 18, and Allan 11. The victim formerly had been chief accountant for the South Park system for eight years before that body was absorbed into the new Chicago Parks District.

CHARGES THEFT OF JEWELS IN WRECKED SHIP

Husband of Companion of Mdivani Is Complainant

Barcelona, Aug. 14.—(AP)—Governor-General Pichyon of Catalonia announced today a complaint that a suitcase containing 2,800,000 francs ($184,800) worth of jewelry had disappeared from the automobile in which Prince Alexis Mdivani lost his life in an accident Aug. 1.

The governor said the information was lodged with him by Baron von Thyssen, husband of the woman who was with Prince Mdivani on the fatal automobile ride.

He said the Baron informed him the jewelry belonged to the Baroness and that the suitcase and its contents disappeared while she was being taken to the hospital from the scene of the wreck.

(Baroness Maud von Thyssen, seriously injured in the crash, was said at the hospital to which she was taken to have lost the sight of one eye in the accident.)

LOBBY QUIZZER THREATENS MR. HOWARD HOPSON

Georgia Congressman Offers to Kick Him Out of Committee Room

Washington, Aug. 14.—(AP)—A Senate subcommittee today served on Howard C. Hopson, "master mind" of the Associated Gas & Electric System, directing his appearance "forthwith" before the Senate lobby committee.

A majority of the Senate committee just previously had threatened to cite him for contempt if he failed to appear.

Service was made by Joseph McCarthy, agent for the Senate group, who yesterday was prevented from serving the subpoena after the House Rules committee adjourned.

McCarthy succeeded in serving it after Hopson testified he had "evaded the Senate committee" because it was "a matter of protecting" his health.

"I felt that other employees had given them all the testimony I could give," he added.

Waiting At Door

McCarthy was waiting outside the door of the House committee room when Hopson emerged. He stepped forward, held the document before him and said:

"This is a summons to appear immediately before the Senate committee."

Hopson took it without a word and walked toward an elevator. He unfolded the paper to read it as he went toward the Senate.

Representative Cox (D-Ga.) meanwhile, threatened to "kick" Hopson out of the House lobby committee room unless he withdrew a remark to the effect that a question Cox asked was a "lie."

The House committee flareup came after Hopson agreed that he expected expenditures by the Associated Gas & Electric System against the Wheeler-Rayburn utilities bill "might exceed" $800,000 to $900,000.

Cox inquired whether Hopson expected to get that back through future stock sales.

Calls Question 'Lie'

Raising his voice, Hopson heatedly replied:

"I resent that, that's a lie. 'Wait a minute,' snapped Cox. 'Unless you withdraw that statement, I'll come around there and kick you out of this room. You'll leave here a lot more scarred up than you are now.'"

The flurry ended when Chairman O'Connor (D-N.Y.) rapped for order and Hopson said almost inaudibly:

"All right I'll withdraw that."

Hopson then told House investi-

HUNDREDS DEAD IN COLLAPSE OF AN ITALIAN DAM

At Least 250 Drowned; Property Damage is $25,000,000

Turin, Aug. 14.—(AP)—Several thousand remaining residents of the valley below the Ovada dam, which burst yesterday with an estimated loss of 250 lives, fled in terror to mountain refuges today as a rumor spread another dam above Ovada had collapsed.

The terror-stricken populace broke through ranks of police and soldiers and commandeered every vehicle and animal with which they could depart to the surrounding mountains.

The people already had been driven into near-hysteria by the horrors of the preceding day in which their homes and relatives were swept away by a powerful wall of water when the hydro-electric dam burst.

Early Estimates 1,000.

Only after hours of toiling up steep slopes with official denials that the dam of the upper lake had broken, could the rescuers induce the villagers to return to the valley to aid in relief work.

The estimate of 250 dead followed an original report by rescue agencies that 1,000 were killed and a later estimate of only 100 dead.

The provincial authorities said several hundred persons were suffering from injuries, shock, and exposure as a result of the sudden torrent which covered 40 square miles.

Rescue squads, consisting mostly of Fascist troops, found the Orba river valley in northern Italy, scene of the flood, a sea of mud, the torrents having receded.

$25,000,000 Damage.

The water swept over an area of 40 square miles yesterday and damage was estimated at 300,000,000 lira (about $25,000,000).

All crops in the path of the flood—grapes, grain, fruit and vegetables—were destroyed. At least 100 houses were demolished. Rescue workers said it was likely that some of the bodies "swayed by" the debris never would be recovered. It was believed that women and children made up the greater part of the death list. Their homes were smashed in on them as they rested from the mid-day heat.

The catastrophe struck with tragic suddenness. There was a terrific roar and the shattered dam loosed the raging torrents on the valley.

Houses Collapsed.

Houses and factories collapsed like match boxes under the impact of the swiftly moving streams. Three railroad bridges and a half dozen highway bridges were strewn before the onrushing waters. The hydro-electric station was virtually demolished, all light and power shut off.

Survivors reaching here told of having seen entire families wiped out as the wall of water swept down the valley. The water poured on them through windows and finally tore the houses from their foundations and smashed them.

Soil Erosion Camp for Stephenson Co.

Washington, Aug. 14.—(AP)—H. H. Bennett, chief of the soil conservation service, said today the erosion control program in Illinois would be expanded by the establishment of two new demonstration projects in Stephenson and Madison counties.

The existing project in McLean and Ford counties will be continued. An allotment of $377,575 has been set aside for Illinois for soil erosion work.

The new Stephenson county project will cover approximately 29,750 acres in the south central section of the county near Freeport, where project headquarters will be established. In Madison county, the project will cover approximately 27,000 acres, with headquarters to be established at Edwardsville.

The work will be under the direction of F. A. Fisher, regional director, located at Champaign-Urbana, Ill.

Auto Registration Highest Since 1930

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 14.—(AP)—Automobile registration is the highest since 1930, Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes announced today, with license plates issued for 1,292,315 passenger cars by August 12. The increase is 6,881 over the entire year of 1934.

Trucks, chauffeur, dealer and trailer registrations have also increased.

"While we do not expect this year to equal the all-time record of 1930, when approximately 1,400,000 vehicles were registered, we expect that at the close of the year registrations will have shown further increases," Hughes said.

Comrade's Intervention at Last Minute Saves Life of Death-Cellmate of Richard Bruno Hauptmann

Trenton, N. J., Aug. 14.—(AP)—The voice of a comrade, intervening almost at the last moment, saved John Favorito, young Edgewater mechanic, from paying the death penalty last night for a hold-up slaying.

The 25-year-old Favorito was to have died in the electric chair at 8 P. M. for the slaying of Emil Vyborny, gasoline station operator, of Englewood Cliffs. At 4 P. M. Charles Weise, 23, of Closter, serving 12 to 15 years imprisonment for participation in the crime, said in a note to the state prison warden that he wanted to "assume the blame for the killing in the Vyborny murder case."

Governor Hoffman granted Favorito a week's reprieve to permit prison authorities to investigate the statement.

Favorito is a death house comrade of Bruno Richard Hauptmann and the slain gasoline station operator was an acquaintance of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh.

The man convicted of the Lindbergh baby stealing, awaiting decision of his appeal to the Court of Errors and Appeals, has seen four prison comrades walk their last few steps to the chair.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS

A number of friends of Mr. and Mrs. John Martenson, who are enjoying a three months' vacation visit in Sweden, have received interesting cards from them this week.

Security Bill—

Josephine Roche, assistant secretary of the treasury.

Administration spokesmen estimate that the unemployment insurance and old age sections would apply to 25,000,000 workers.

This is what the old-age annuity section of the bill would do to and for the twin Doe Brothers:

What Bill Would Do
The two—John and Jim—will be 30 on January 1, 1937, the date that action becomes operative.

Both have jobs paying them $200 a month.

In 1937, 1938 and 1939, they will pay a 1 per cent tax on their salaries—a total of $72 each for the three years. After that the rate increases gradually to a maximum of 3 per cent beginning in 1949.

John Doe keeps his job and continues to make an average of $200 a month until he reaches 65. At that age, he has paid $1,152 to the government, and his employer has paid a like amount. John is entitled to a monthly pension of $66.25.

His brother Jim, however, has not been so fortunate. He remained employed only 20 of the 35 years. In those 20 years, taxes were paid on $48,000 of income.

When he reaches 65, though, he gets a pension just the same. The amount is arrived at this way: He is entitled to a monthly pension of one-half of 1 per cent of the first $3,000 of his total salary plus one-twelfth of 1 per cent of the remainder—a pension of $15 plus $37.50, or a total of $52.50 each month.

After Their Deaths
The monthly pensions to both continue until their deaths. This is what happens when they die:

Taxes have been paid for John—the one who worked the full 35 years—on $84,000. The bill states that he is entitled, therefore, to benefits totaling $2,940. If at the time of his death the total monthly pension payments to him add up more than that amount, his heirs get nothing. If they add to less, his heirs get the balance.

For Jim, however, taxes have been paid only on $48,000. Therefore, he is entitled to pension benefits totaling $1,260. If his pension payments total less than that, his heirs get the balance; if they total more, his heirs get nothing.

HIDDEN GOOD

By Joseph Fort Newton

"BEAUTY is only skin-deep," an old saying tells us. But so is ugliness, if we have eyes to see below the skin of life.

Not long ago, in a hotel lounge, a man who had worked for years as a dismal city slum was talking about the folk among whom he worked. And a social worker sees life as it actually is.

For an hour he told of the conditions under which his folk lived, the overcrowding, the lack of suitable places for children to play, the hardship of casual labor and all the rest.

Then he added quietly, after a pause, as if summing up the net result of his experience: "The thing that impresses me most about the people of the slum is their amazing goodness."

My heart went out to him for those words. Not so much for what he said about his people—no doubt they deserved it—but for what he had told us, quite unconsciously, about himself.

Here was a man with an eye for goodness. He had the insight to see the sublime in the sordid, and the wilderness of a city slum blossomed as a rose before him because he had vision.

It is almost always so. If we believe the best of people, they nearly always produce their best for us. Nothing evokes the best so much as trust; nothing brings out the worst like suspicion.

Of course, if we go about ready to be eager to believe the best of everybody, somebody is sure to let us down. But if we go about believing folks are a bad lot, we let ourselves down.

To a man who was denouncing humanity as a mean and measly outfit, Dickens said: "What a blessed thing it is that we do not belong to it!" If we scorn our fellows we scorn ourselves.

There are good folk everywhere, and good in every man, if we look for the good. Happy is the man who sees the good which humanity hides from us because we are blind and do not love it enough.

The longer one lives the more one discovers the unknown, unguessed goodness of people, without which the race would rot.

Dinner Honors the Champion League at The Airport Grill

Isador and Edwin Eichler were hosts, Tuesday night at a chicken dinner at the Airport Grill, in honor of the championship City League Eichler softball team. Fifteen guests were present.

Before the dinner a picture of the team in full uniform was taken on the field, and then the members engaged in a short game.

Mullen-Hill Wedding Thursday

In the Polo Lutheran church Thursday at 3 P. M., Miss Mary Lucille Mullen, daughter of Mrs. Henry Tice of Polo, will become the bride of Dr. Edward Llewellyn Hill, son of Mrs. Katherine Hill of Carthage. The service will be read by Dr. E. O. Bartholomew of Rock Island, the 89-year-old clergyman who read the service when the groom's parents were wed half a century ago. He will be assisted by a cousin of Miss Mullen.

Miss Jane Hamaker of Flint, Mich., will be bridesmaid and the groom's brother, David Hill, will be best man. The bride will wear a lace jacket with her white satin gown and a picture hat. Her corsage bouquet will be of roses and other flowers.

The bridesmaid will wear green mousseline de soie with matching accessories, and she will also have a corsage bouquet. Dr. Hill's brother, William Hill of Urbana, will play the Bridal Chorus from "Lohengrin" as the processional, and a sister, Mrs. Rosalind Hill Nicholas of Springfield, will sing the Wedding Hymn and "Because." The recessional will be Mendelssohn's Wedding March.

The ceremony will be followed by a reception in the church parlors. For traveling the bride will wear a blue boucle ensemble with tan accessories. After a wedding trip to Wisconsin the couple will return to Polo for a week before going to Carthage to reside.

Dr. Hill is head of the chemistry department at Carthage college.

Miss Mullen was graduated from Polo high school in 1928, from the Mercy hospital in Chicago in 1931, and from Carthage college in 1934. For the past year she has been teaching in the training school of the Katherine Shaw Bethea hospital in Dixon. Dr. Hill also a graduate of Carthage college, received his doctor of philosophy degree from the University of Iowa.

W. R. C. District Convention in Freeport To Be Held Sept. 17

Dixon Country Club ladies were hostesses yesterday to visitors from the neighboring clubs of Morrison, Twin City and Rochelle. There were sixty-one in attendance. Golf was the feature of the morning and at noon a delicious luncheon was enjoyed followed by an afternoon happily spent in bridge.

For Morrison Mrs. Harry Bent made low bogey, minus 4; Mrs. George Bulmer getting low puts, 32.

For the Twin City players Mrs. Mary Lewis was plus 4; Mrs. Peters, Jr., won the putting prize with a 30.

For the Rochelle players Mrs. Diller was even on bogey. Mrs. Land won honors at putting with a 33.

For Dixon Mrs. Wilson Dysart was up on bogey, 4. Mrs. Carl Buchner, Sr., was high in low puts with a 33.

In the afternoon there were seven tables of bridge with Mrs. C. Clark of Rochelle winning honors for her town; Mrs. A. A. Golding of the Twin City Club winning honors for Sterling and Mrs. E. S. Rosecrans winning honors for Dixon.

The entire day was a happy one for everyone attending.

FEATHERS ADORN NEW FALL HATS—

Feathers of all types and sizes adorn new fall hats. Some swirl upward in Robin Hood manner from the center of the crown. Others sweep downward to cover an ear or the side of the neck. Then, too, you probably will see hats that are made entirely of feathers. These will be worn on the street as well as to cocktail parties and dinners.

Hear Mrs. George B. Simmons of Marshall, Mo., at Amboy fair grounds next Thursday afternoon, Aug. 22. Everyone welcome.

WATERMELON RIND RECIPE

Dinner Menu Serving Four

(Suggestions for a Rainy Day)

Meat Balls Sauce

Buttered Broccoli

Creamed Wax Beans

Mashed Turnips

Bread Currant Jelly

Spiced Watermelon Rind

Chocolate Pecan Pie

2 tablespoons fat

2 tablespoons chopped onions

2 tablespoon chopped green peppers

1 pound beef, ground

1/2 pound smoked ham, chopped

2 egg yolks

1/2 cup cracker crumbs

1/2 teaspoon salt

1/2 teaspoon pepper

1/2 cup milk

4 tablespoons flour

Melt fat and add onions and peppers.

Cook slowly until well browned.

Mixing with fork, add meat, yolks, crumbs, seasonings and milk.

Shape into 2 inch balls and roll in flour.

Arrange in shallow baking pan and add sauce.

Sauce

3 tablespoons butter

3 tablespoons flour

1 1/2 cups milk

3 tablespoons chili sauce

Melt butter, add flour and when blended add milk and cook until creamy sauce forms.

Stir constantly add sauce and your over balls. Bake 15 minutes in moderate oven.

Spiced Watermelon Rind

4 pounds prepared rind

1/2 cup salt

8 cups water

16 cups sugar

2 cups boiling water

5 cups vinegar

1/2 cup whole cloves

1/2 cup whole allspice

1/2 cup broken bark cinnamon

Remove green and pink portions from rind. Cut rind into squares, cubes or three-cornered pieces.

Soak over night in the salt and water. In the morning drain and cover by 4 inches with cold water. Slowly bring to boiling water and simmer until rind is very tender when tested with fork.

This will require about 25 minutes of cooking but exact time can not be given. Mix rest of ingredients and boil 2 minutes. Add cooked rind and simmer until well glazed. This will require about 50 minutes. Pour into stone jar and cover when cool.

Delightful Day For Golfers and the Bridge Players

The thirteenth district convention of the Women's Relief Corps will be held at Odd Fellows' temple, Freeport, Sept. 17. Delegates from 23 corps, numbering approximately three hundred persons will attend.

Registration will begin at 9:30 A. M., and business sessions will follow until the noon hour, when lunch will be served at the United Brethren church. The afternoon meeting will open with inspection of the John A. Davis corps, No. 44, of which Mrs. C. W. Whitford is president, and the convention will conclude late in the afternoon, following election and the naming of the 1936 convention city.

Mrs. Walter Spielman, Freeport, district president, has been notified that Mrs. Ethel Jackson, East St. Louis, state president, and Mrs. Norma Ogan, Chicago, state inspector, will be present, together with other district officers.

HOME MADE SUN TAN MIXTURE—

Salad dressing for sun tanning, minus the seasoning, is a safe, effective home-made suntan oil. The usual two-thirds olive oil to one-third vinegar is a soothing mixture that will cause a darker tan than oil alone.

Sister of 93-Year-Old Dixon Man was 95 a Few Days Ago

C. H. Keyes, Dixon's veteran merchant, who is 93 years of age, is not the only one of his family who has a record for longevity. The following from the Pitchburg, Mass. Sentinel concerns his sister who is two years older than he:

"I don't believe I have ever had an idle day in my life," Mrs. Sarah S. Keyes said this morning. Sparkling and happy, Mrs. Keyes told of the celebration of her 95th birthday yesterday at the Pitchburg Home of Old Ladies.

"I did not want them to do it all, but I did enjoy it so much," she said as she told of the many folks who came to visit her.

A veritable avalanche of flowers and congratulatory messages as well as personal calls from more than 40 friends and relatives made the day a memorable one for the delightful little lady.

"Aunt Sarah," as she is affectionately called at the home, started receiving callers at 3 o'clock. Included in the many who came were friends and relatives from Pennsylvania, Newburyport, Georgetown, Haverhill and New Hampshire.

Punch and cakes were served by members of the board including Mrs. David H. Merriam, Miss Cora Poirce, Mrs. William H. Bennett, Mrs. Ella W. Pearson, Mrs. Russell B. Love and Miss Edith Baker.

Despite the fact that she has been suffering from a slight cold, Mrs. Keyes said she never felt better. She appeared many years younger than she is. Her conversation is enlivened by genuine wit and sanguine humor as well as studded with a thorough knowledge of current happenings and affairs.

Her greatest joy is in the reading of newspapers. She has been a constant reader of the Pitchburg Sentinel ever since she has been in Pitchburg.

Politics are her favorite topic and she keeps in close touch with governmental affairs. A staunch Republican, she discusses the present regime with true understanding. She does not favor the New Deal, but believes that industry can help itself along faster alone than with aids. She is sure that the country will swing Republican and considers the recent Rhode Island victory of the G. O. P., a definite indication of what is to follow in 1936 and 1940.

Although she is reluctant to talk about herself, she gave hesitatingly the reasons when she has lived to such a ripe old age.

"A free and healthy life, with never an idle day in it is the real reason why I have been so healthy for so long," she said.

"Then, of course, I come from hardy New England stock which is prone to long life."

"I have a brother who will be 93 years old this month. He is Charles H. Keyes of Dixon, Ill. 'I was the only girl and with my two brothers on my father's farm in Princeton, I am afraid I was somewhat of a tom-boy and remember that I seldom refused to take a dare.'"

Although she admitted that she may be of the old school, and a bit prejudiced, she termed the younger generation as a bit wild, but hastened to add that they will take care of themselves and grow wiser as the years go on.

Her greatest aversion to the modern times, is the publicity given crime news. She said, "It is too bad that crime is made glamorous and inviting to the young boys."

Mrs. Keyes was born in Princeton, Aug. 8, 1840, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Silas and Martha (Keyes) Keyes. Her birthplace, now more than 150 years old, was purchased by her grandfather, Ephraim Keyes, when with his bride, he went to that town to live.

She was married in 1860 to Edwin Keyes, a distant relative. They lived for two years in New York and then moved to this city, where they resided for 30 years. In 1890 they moved to Boston and Mr.

Keyes died two years later. Mrs. Keyes then moved to New York and made her home with her son, Murray K. Keyes. His wife died in 1926 and she came then to Pitchburg.

After a delightful half-hour, Mrs. Keyes told the writer, "Friday is a busy day for me, you see I have to pick up my room, so will you excuse me."

And as the charming little old lady bustled off about her pleasant duties, she parted with this advice: "Make right, do right and think right and you will never be sad or sorry."

Mrs. Adena Miller Named Successor of Hull House Founder

Chicago, Aug. 14 — (AP) — Mrs. Adena Miller Rich, named president at Hull House, where she worked and lived for 20 years, today promised to continue the traditions and policies established by its founder, Jane Addams.

Selected by Miss Addams to be her successor as head of the internationally welfare settlement, Mrs. Rich was formally named president by the board of directors. She will take office Oct. 1.

"Jane Addams was more than the president of Hull House—she was a mother to us all," Mrs. Rich declared. "Any program that I might arrange for operation of the house will naturally be based on a continuation of the humanitarian principle on which she founded the institution."

Tall, alert, with kindly blue eyes and a manner of speaking and acting which denoted years of close association with the homeless, Mrs. Rich described a promise to Miss Addams nearly three years ago—that she some day would assume the presidency.

"Miss Addams' health was failing—she wanted relief from the load she had borne so willingly and cheerfully," she recalled. "Nearly three years ago she asked me to succeed her as president—to allow her to get away, and to travel and write."

Mrs. Rich, for several years Miss Addams' secretary, has been for 10 years director of the Immigration Protective League of Chicago whose headquarters are at Hull House.

Grace Abbott, former head of the labor department's children's bureau, will succeed Mrs. Rich as first vice president of Hull House.

So, Dixon Community Club Meeting

The South Dixon Community Club met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Lauren Henry on Route 89, the attendance being almost perfect. After the president called the meeting to order, several songs were sung. The penny collection was taken after some business was transacted.

The club decided to hold their annual picnic at Lawrence Park on Aug. 25th, to which all the club members and their families are invited.

The rest of the afternoon was spent in playing buncle. Mrs. Carl Blum receiving the first prize and Mrs. Noah Beard receiving the consolation prize. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. She was assisted in serving by Mrs. Lautzenheiser and Mrs. John Patterson. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Daniel Ortgiesen, Sr., on the afternoon of Aug. 21st.

Schafer Picnic at Amboy Park Sunday

The Schafer picnic was enjoyed at the Amboy Park on Sunday, August 11th, with thirty-eight members present. After a delicious dinner, pictures were taken and two games of baseball played.

The following were present: Mr. and Mrs. John Salzman and family and Miss Lucy Schafer of Dixon; Mrs. Fred Gonnerman and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Gonnerman and family of Nachusa; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schafer and family, William Schafer and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schafer and family and Mrs. Beattie Schafer and son of Franklin Grove; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ackerman of Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. George Killmer of Amboy and Arthur Schafer Sr., and family, Miss Dora Schafer, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schafer, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Nelson and family of Ottawa.

USE GRAY FOR YOUR BEDROOM—

Gray is coming to be considered an excellent color for bedrooms. Two shades of gray, or gray white and yellow are combinations that have great vogue at the moment.

Griswold-Fallstrom Wedding Announced

Mr. and Mrs. William Griswold of Oregon announce the marriage of their daughter, Florence, to Carl H. Fallstrom, son of Mrs. Hannah Fallstrom of Dixon, which was solemnized last Friday, Aug. 9th, by the Rev. Edward P. Scharf pastor of the First Lutheran church, in Freeport. The bride was lovely in a gown of pale blue crepe with accessories matching. Mrs. Fallstrom is a graduate of the Oregon high school, and Brown's Business College, Rockford. She is secretary for the Paragon Kol-Master corporation. Mr. Fallstrom is a member of the Fallstrom Florists, Dixon, who conduct the Fallstrom Flower Shop in this city. After a wedding trip to Trout Lake and the Dells in Wisconsin, Mr. and Mrs. Fallstrom will return to Oregon where they will make their home with her parents. The many friends of both young people will unite in extending best wishes to them for happiness.

HERE FROM LOS ANGELES FOR A VISIT—

BASIS OF INJUNCTIONS

Although there has been a shower of orders of injunction against collection of processing taxes, the public has been enlightened but little on the theory on which judges of United States courts are granting them. Most enlightening is the opinion of Judge Merrill E. Otis of St. Joseph, Mo., who packed the large issue into a small unit in granting a temporary injunction to the Washburn-Crosby company.

Judge Otis said that courts long have recognized three principles: 1. That every statute enacted by congress and approved by the president is presumed to be constitutional. 2. That the courts will not declare a statute unconstitutional unless its invalidity under the constitution is established beyond reasonable doubt. 3. That the courts will not enjoin the collection of any tax provided by stateute, although it is unconstitutional, if the taxpayer, having paid the tax, has the right to sue in a court of law to recover it from the government.

Continuing from that basis, he said:
"The chief reason for the presumption that a statute regularly enacted and approved is constitutional is the assumption that members of congress before they voted for it, and the chief executive before he gave it his approval, carefully considered whether it was within the powers conferred on congress by the constitution.
"Members of congress solemnly have sworn that they will support the constitution and the president solemnly has sworn that he will preserve, protect, and defend the constitution.

"The courts have rejected as unthinkable the suggestion sometimes made that the president and the congression might disregard their oaths, that they might seek to shift from their shoulders to the shoulders of the judges the responsibility imposed thereby.

"Any such course not only is unthinkable, it would be quite as indefensible as that of a witness, sworn to tell the truth, who should commit perjury on the theory that the jury would perceive it and disregard it.

"Starting with the presumption that the statute is constitutional, and bearing in mind the rule that a statute is not to be declared unconstitutional unless it so appears beyond any responsible doubt, I can not go farther than to say that very forceful arguments are advanced against the validity of the statute.

"But it is said that congress is about to pass a law, and that the president will approve it, where under the doors of the courts of justice will be closed to those whose money and property unlawfully have been taken. With humiliation it must be confessed that there is basis for this apprehension.

"It is true that the sovereign may not be sued without the sovereign's consent, and while a just and righteous sovereign never will deny that consent to its citizens, it is yet possible for it to do so. Shortly, no doubt, we shall know whether such a step is to be taken in this republic."

Reading of long opinions is tedious, and most of us are interested in the finding alone, not the reasoning.
Judge Otis has made the case concise enough so that as these injunction suits are decided, we of the common people may understand the basis of the action in the event they are made permanent.

Actors . . . are expected to say things that are impressive. And when they don't, people are disappointed.—
Katharine Hepburn.

Vacations are over. The fight starts again.—Paul Joseph Goebbels, German propaganda minister.

OBJECTIONS TO OUTSIDER COHEN AMUSE INSIDERS

"Sitting In" Has Been Common Custom of the New Dealers

BY HERBERT PLUMMER

Washington — Political insiders in Washington were amused at the furor created in the house over whether the mild-mannered, be-speckled and bushy-haired brain-truster — Benjamin V. Cohen — should sit in as an adviser in the conference on the utility holding company bill.

Representative Huddleson of Alabama, vigorous adversary of the so-called "death sentence" section of the bill, indignantly assailed the youthful "death sentence" section of able outsider and demanded that he be excluded from the conference. Senator Wheeler, chairman of the senate conference, who invited Cohen to sit in as his adviser, was adamant in his demands that he be permitted to remain.

It is the second time Cohen has been assailed on the floor of congress. Previously Senator Schall of Minnesota, in referring to his influence on Capitol hill, described the present congress as the "Cohen-gress."

Advisors Not New

The incident serves as another illustration of just how bitter the struggle over the holding company bill and particularly the "death sentence" section, has become. Nothing like it has been seen in Washington for a long time.

As for Cohen sitting in on the conference, the practice is nothing new. It's been the accepted procedure for years.

Jim Landis, another youthful brain-truster and now a member of the securities commission, sat through all the conference of the measure creating that agency and there was no objection raised either on the part of the senate or house. Cohen himself sat throughout the conference deliberations on that highly controversial measure as did young Tom Corcoran, another brain-truster, and Ferdinand Pecora, special prosecutor for the senate in its stock market investigation.

Appointment Rumored

What amused those who know Cohen and his manner is that any one would accuse him or insinuate that he was a too sinister influence to sit behind closed doors with senate and house conferees trying to compose their differences on the holding company bill. He is distinctly not the type one associates with that sort of thing.

It is true that he is credited with being largely responsible for the more lethal provisions of the holding company bill. He and Corcoran are said to have written the original draft of the measure, with the aid and counsel of Dr. M. W. Splawn now a member of the interstate commerce commission.

Rumor that Cohen is to be appointed to the securities commission to replace Pecora, who resigned to become a New York supreme court judge, may have had its effect. This commission is to administer the holding company bill and if it goes through will have wide discretionary powers.

NELSON NEWS

By MRS. M. C. STUTZEL

NELSON—Mr. and Mrs. W. C. McNabb and daughter Miss June have returned from their vacation spent in Chicago and vicinity.

Miss Dorothy Stitzel was the week end guest of Miss Marjorie Jones at Sterling.

Mrs. Wilford Cosman and son Billie spent several days last week with relatives in Oregon and Grand Detour.

Robert Palmer of Madison, Wis. visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Palmer Saturday and Sunday they accompanied him to Peoria where they spent the day with Dan Palmer.

Miss Margaret Sherbert of Maywood who visited the Stitzel families for the past ten days returned to her home Saturday.

Brent Paige who has been at the Parks home for the past several months spent Saturday and Sunday at his home in Aurora.

H. L. Reed and family and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Schoaf attended the funeral of Mr. Reed's mother which was held at her late home in Sterling last Thursday.

Mesdames Flora Phillips of Sterling and Ella Phillips of Dixon called at the M. C. Stitzel home last Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. W. C. Jones and daughter,

Mrs. A. J. Palmer of Madison and Mrs. Rush Bose and little daughter were callers at the G. W. Palmer home last Wednesday afternoon.

George Joyce and family have moved to a tenant house south of the Hill school.

Thursday afternoon the troop of Girl Scouts from Amboy which is sponsored by the Woman's club in that city went to Lawrence Park in Sterling for an outing. They held investiture services around the flag pole in the park at which 20 Scouts who had passed their tenderfoot tests were invested. Mrs. Herbert Parker, Lee county president of the Woman's club came with the girls. The director of Girl Scouts in Dixon, Mrs. Dorothy Hardy and Mrs. E. D. Stitzel, former leader of Pine Tree troop of Girl Scouts of Nelson were guests. Mrs. Stitzel instructed the girls in handicraft. Mrs. Lippe is leader of the Amboy troop. Swimming was another feature and in the swimming contest Caroline Parker won the event. At 6 o'clock the girls gathered at one long table and partook of a delicious picnic supper.

TO PROTECT DEPOTS

Washington, D. C.—Civilian aircraft were forbidden by orders issued through President Roosevelt from flying over 24 military and naval reservations throughout the country, including the ordnance depot at Savanna, Ill.

CAN DAMAGED FRUIT

Washington, D. C.—Representative Kent E. Keller, Democrat, Ava, Ill., announced relief to southern Illinois farmers who lost fruit crops in a storm June 29 was being extended to those farmers who gave the damaged crops outright to the Federal Relief Administration. The Illinois Emergency Relief Administration, he said, would have the fruit canned for relief uses next winter.

By studying the leakage of helium from the rock materials on the earth, geologists are clearing up many uncertainties in their estimates of the age of this planet. Many geologists now estimate the earth's age at 3,000,000,000 years.

ETHIOPIA ASKS LIFTING OF EM- BARGO ON ARMS

Pleas For Right to Prevent Massacres by the Italian Forces

ETHIOPIA SITUATION
By The Associated Press
Geneva—Ethiopia appeals to the League of Nations against arms embargos, saying she fears a massacre by Italian troops if she is unable to defend herself.

London—Neutrals, seeking peace, suggest Italy may be offered increased extra territoriality rights in Ethiopia, permitting colonization of Italians there.

Djibouti—Emperor of Ethiopia dispatches 60,000 troops to Somali frontier.

Rome—Italy, indifferent to tripartite conference, continues preparations for East African campaign.

London—Mounting of Italy's debt leads British manufacturers to consider a curb on credit.

Paris—Britain's Anthony Eden and France's Pierre Laval meet to review settlement elements preparatory to tripartite conference.

Djibouti, French Somaliland, Aug. 14—(AP)—Emperor Haile Selassie has dispatched 60,000 troops to positions behind Ethiopia's eastern borders, preparatory for a quick southward drive on Italian Somaliland in the event Italy invades his kingdom.

The troops will be concentrated in the Harrar region. It was learned today, below the Djibouti-Addis Ababa line, it is the native district of the troops composing this force.

Thus placed, they can quickly be moved into Ogaden, the Ethiopian district on the frontier of Italian Somaliland.

Ethiopian war leaders anticipate an Italian advance from Eritrea toward Addis Ababa, to the north of Addis Ababa. Such a movement would be countered by the Ethiopian advance to the south, it was pointed out.

Foreigners In City

The exodus of foreigners from Addis Ababa has poured many Europeans into this port city. Among them are Italians, some of whom immediately volunteered for service with Il Duce's troops in Eritrea.

German and British nationals in Ethiopia have been instructed by their governments to prepare inventories of their properties and be ready to leave the country on short notices.

France, too, manifests a skepticism that the tripartite conference in Paris will accomplish much in the way of peace.

Long-range guns have been mounted on the islands off this coast. It was learned today, The French cruiser Dumont-Duville will arrive Aug. 18, to remain indefinitely.

ITALY INDIFFERENT

Rome, Aug. 14—(AP)—Italy called to arms today another extensive group of officers and soldiers as the government, indifferent to the tripartite conference in Paris, continued its preparations for war in East Africa.

The new order recalled to servce those members of the classes of 1911, 1913 and 1914 who served under trimester (three-month) obligatory military service.

It was learned that Italians living abroad who have volunteered for service in East Africa will be enrolled in the Legion which will be formed into four battalions of 1,000 men each. They will be commanded by Pietro Parini, secretary-general of the organization of Fascists abroad.

The communique involves tens of thousands of men, but it was explained that they would not be sent to East Africa. There were called because the government felt their military training was too meager and therefore they should have another six months or year of preparation.

CONFERENCES BEGIN

Paris, Aug. 14—(AP)—The effort of three powers to solve peacefully the Italo-Ethiopian dispute opened today as Premier Pierre Laval conferred at the Quai d'Orsay with Anthony Eden, British minister for League of Nations affairs, in advance of the official conversations between France, Great Britain and Italy.

Laval's job is that of mediator seeking a way to satisfy Great Britain's desire for at least a nominal independence for Ethiopia and protection of the Lake Tsana regions, source of water supply for the Nile. At the same time he must give Italy enough control in Ethiopia for its prestige and need of economic expansion.

The Eden-Laval discussion for review of all of the elements of the situation was expected by informed circles to disclose whether Britain will persist in urging an economic solution of the dispute to the exclusion of the political solution desired by Italy.

Island a Fortress

London, Aug. 14—(AP)—A Reuter's (British) news agency dispatch from Athens said today that the Italian-owned Dodecanese islands in the Aegean Sea have been placed under martial law with a severe blockade in force. The island of Leros has been converted into a fortress.

Private houses on the islands have been requisitioned for hospital service in the militarization program.

The 13 islands of the Dodecanese are in the Aegean Sea, off the coast of Asia Minor.

Formerly the possession of Turkey, they were occupied by Italy during its war with Turkey in 1909. It evacuated them by terms of the first treaty of Lausanne in 1912. The secret treaty of London of 1915, which won Italy's entrance into the World War, gave Italy sovereignty over the islands.

This sovereignty was repeatedly disputed until, in 1920, the treaty of Sevres gave Italy full control.

Pleas For Justice

Geneva, Aug. 14—(AP)—Charging that Italy is preparing to massacre a peaceful people, Ethiopia protested to the League of Nations that she is unable to purchase arms abroad her soil.

On the eve of the all-important political negotiations in Paris, where three leading European powers are meeting to consider measures for settlement of the Italo-Ethiopian conflict, Ethiopia besought the league's assistance to remove what she called the unjust effect of an arms embargo imposed on her by many nations.

The monkey waiter had real fun. So did the Tinies. "See him run," said Dotty. "Oh, he'll spill our sandwiches upon the ground."

"Hey, Mister Trainer, make him stop before he takes a sudden flop." The Trainer laughed, and said, "Don't worry. He is safe and sound."

"That monkey's clever as can be, as you will very shortly see." And then the monkey held the sandwich platter way up high.

"He wishes you to reach for one," the Trainer said. "He thinks that's fun." "Oh, it is too much work," said lazy Duncy, with a sigh.

But Dotty grabbed a couple and put one of them in Duncy's hand. "I hope that you can stay awake to eat it, lad," said she.

"You're such a lazy, sleepyhead, you really ought to be in bed. If you want more grab them yourself. You won't get them from me." The monkey soon grew all tired out, and stopped his dashing all about. He put the platter down.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Weber of Terre Haute, Ind., were guests last week at the Henry Kramer home. James Foley, Jr., and family have moved into their new home on Main street, which he recently purchased from the Fitzpatrick heirs.

ASHTON NEWS

Ashton—Representatives of the Ashton Woman's club appeared before the city council at its August meeting to interest the council in making needed improvements in the new Green Valley park which was formerly the stone quarry and was purchased recently by J. C. Griffith and turned over to the club for the benefit of the community.

Mrs. Orpha Knapp informed the council that the property would be deeded to the village of Ashton if the council will take steps to improve the tract. Miss Lucile Hart proposed that the village seek a WPA loan for the park project and Mrs. Wallace Clover suggested improvements which included a gravel or cinder road, electric lights, park benches and tables, playground equipment, two fireplaces, parking place, croquet and lawn tennis courts, toilets, stone steps, bird baths, planting of trees and shrubbery, the removal of the dump in the southeast corner, leveling, terracing, filling-in and seeding the lawn, and the cutting down of box elder trees and weeds.

The council tabled the matter but requested club members circulate petitions regarding the project among the local taxpayers.

Ashton softball fans are enthusiastically entering into the All-Star team voting contest which began this past week and will terminate in a best three-out-of-five games series between city and community teams, the games to be played the last of this month.

This is the second All-Star contest, and, judging from the interest displayed last year, with the improvements made at the ball park this spring for the convenience of the fans, it is expected that with a large vote and closely matched teams the attendance will be much larger this year.

The boys of Ashton and community of school age are to be given a chance to play soft ball under the lights the latter part of this month. A boys' night is being sponsored by the Ashton Gazette and Soft Ball association, when the younger boys of the community who are not playing regularly with the city league teams will play a double-header.

All boys of grade or high school age in Ashton and community wishing to play are to register their names and position they want to play within the next two weeks, when teams will be picked and managers chosen.

The annual flight of homing pigeons from Ashton to Chicago, conducted by the Greater Chicago Concourse Co. which includes clubs from Chicago and the suburbs, took place Sunday morning when over 7000 birds were liberated from their pens at the Northwestern depot. This was the largest flight from here and was in charge of James Prusa of Chicago.

There will be no band concert in Ashton this week, as the director, Herman O'May is spending ten days at the band orchestra clinic at Interlochen, Mich., where all of the noted band and orchestra leaders of the country will be gathered. This is the music camp where Miss Jean Root has been spending the summer.

Master Dean Vogeler and sister, Miss Kathryn Jean have spent the past week with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gilkerson at Belvidere.

Mrs. Katie Hart has been visiting at the homes of her son Arthur and family at Arenzville, Ill., and her daughter, Mrs. Ella Sanders and family of Chicago.

Clifford Schafer who had been receiving medical treatment at Excelsior Springs, Mo. for the past 10 weeks has returned home and resumed his duties at the Ashton Bank.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tadd Sr. who have been visiting for the past four weeks at the home of their son and other relatives at Melvin, Iowa, have returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Schroeder of Freeport are spending their vacation at the home of Mrs. Schroeder's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor.

Harold Moore has been engaged to teach the Union school northeast of Ashton which has been taught the past few years by Paul Vaupel. Mr. Vaupel will teach in the Franklin Grove school this coming year.

Miss Lois Hanawalt of Urbana has been the guest of Miss Martha Mall and other friends the past week.

Propose Boycott of Germany in the Senate

Washington, Aug. 14.—(AP)—Rep. Celler (D-N. Y.) said today he would introduce a bill soon calling for withdrawal of all United States' entries in the Olympic games at Berlin.

Celler, who has been outspoken against what he termed "Nazi outrages," urged the legislators to oppose American participation in the games.

"German authorities have shown the same attitude toward the field of sports," he said, "as they have displayed toward Jews and toward Catholic youth clubs. Germany will permit only true Nazis to represent her at the Olympic Games and that tends to make the whole thing a silly joke."

On the Senate side yesterday, Senator Gerry (D-R. I.) who rarely speaks from the floor, said American sportsmen should consider withdrawing from the Olympic Games in 1936 because of Nazi activities against Jews and Catholics.

Bad Feeling.
Either a "dead heat" or a victory by an American Jew "might result in very bad feeling," he said.

Similar feelings were expressed by Senator Walsh (D-Mass.) who said "The matter brought up by Senator Gerry should be given very serious consideration by the state department." He added, however, it was "unlikely" the senate would take any action.

Rep. Dickstein (D-N. Y.) is another congressman favoring an American boycott of the Olympics. In a statement today he declared athletic officials "who have been charged with choosing athletes to represent this country in the forth-

OBITUARY

MRS. CLARA KRAHENBUHL
(Contributed.)

Clara Krahenbuhl, nee Wittmer, was born August 12, 1887, at Thurgau, Switzerland, and passed away Friday noon at her home east of the city on Lincoln Highway. She was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran faith while still in her native land. She came to this country on March 2, 1912, and was united in holy wedlock to Charles Krahenbuhl on December 22, 1912, at Long Island, New Jersey. The deceased then came to Rochelle and lived in the eastern part of Lee county near Compton for a number of years. Mrs. Krahenbuhl has been lingering for the past five years. Ever since a nervous breakdown she has been a nervous sufferer. When her health was still good she was faithful in her church attendance and never missed the worship on the Lord's Day. On February 28, 1933, she came to Dixon, making her home at the Gehant Nursery on the Lincoln Highway, east of the city. On Monday August 12, she would have been 48 years of age. She is survived by her husband, two daughters, Edith and Mrs. Clara Barnadin, four step-children: Fred of West Brooklyn; Alvin of Rochelle; Mrs. Edith Giltleson and Earl Krahenbuhl of Rochelle; her parents and one sister living in Switzerland; also one grandchild and three step-grandchildren.

DIXON VETERAN HONORED TENTH TIME BY SIXTH

Annual Reunion at Morrison One of Best the Boys Have Had

The two-day reunion of the Sixth Illinois Volunteer Infantry, which closed Monday afternoon at Morrison, was one of the most successful ever held, both in attendance and in general spirit shown. A total of 116 members registered, while there were 52 ladies registered, in addition to several who did not sign in the registration book.

A parade through Main street was a fitting climax although a number of the veterans and auxiliary members were unable to march while the strain was too much for others who had to drop out. As they marched on Main street, there were 73 veterans, and 24 auxiliary members, led by the Morrison high school band. There were also several in autos.

On Sight-Seeing Tour

A number of the visitors to the city were taken on a sight-seeing tour following the parade, while others lingered at the municipal buildings to meet all their old comrades and friends, and wish them good luck, and a hope they would see each other at the reunion again next year. The place for the 1936 reunion was not selected, the matter being left to a committee of three. Among the probable places was Kewanee.

The banquet Monday noon was attended by approximately 200 persons, including a number of visitors from Morrison. Walter C. Drury of Fulton, newly elected president, was master of ceremonies. Mrs. LeVera Waite Smith favored with two solos as an introduction to the program. The retiring and incoming officers of both the Infantry and Auxiliary were presented, and also the six Morrison members who had charge of local arrangements, and their wives.

SEES KNOX STRONGEST

Concord, N. H., Aug. 13.—(AP)—George H. Moses, former United States Senator from New Hampshire, said today in an interview that Col. Frank Knox, Manchester and Chicago publisher, "has more support right now than any other man as a candidate for the Republican nomination for president in the 1936 campaign."

Moses would make no prediction, however, on who would win the nomination. He had no comment on his plans for 1936.

Spirit of "Better Times" Seen In Most Of Illinois Farmers

Urbana, Ill.—(AP)—Out of the depression has come "better times" long before the return of economic "good times" in many Illinois rural communities, says D. E. Lindstrom, of the University of Illinois agriculture college.

Instead of succumbing to the depression, he says, rural folks have been holding more and better community meetings, have developed new, capable leaders, have conducted enlightening discussions on the world and national problems and have found they can provide entertainment at small cost.

As a result of these activities, he holds the morale of the farm people has been kept up.

LIEN AGAINST GANGSTERS

Belleville, Ill., Aug. 13.—(AP)—A federal income tax lien for $2703.80 was filed in Belleville today against Bernard Shelton and the Recorder of Deeds said the defendant was "Bernie" Shelton, member of the East St. Louis Shelton gang.

The petition, filed for V. Y. Dallman, collector of internal revenue at Springfield, charged that Shelton owed $1395.06 for 1930 income taxes, to which $1308.74 had been added in interest and penalties. The source of income was not specified.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Colamel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sick and the world looks punk.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A new bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes these good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c. © 1931, C. M. Co.

SIMMONS WAS BOOED FIRST TIME BY FANS

Arky Only One of Big Six to Hold High Average

Chicago, Aug. 14.—(AP)—Major league baseball fans in the White Sox career, Al Simmons was booed at Comiskey park yesterday. Al is hustling, but his batting average is down to an all time low for him at this stage of the campaign, only .274 as compared with last season's .344 and his life time average of .350. Including the last game in the disastrous Detroit series and yesterday's loss to the Red Sox, Al ruined five budding White Sox rallies in succession. He finally broke his slump by hammering out a triple in the seventh inning yesterday to score Tony Piet.

Stranger Than Simmons
Stranger than Simmons' slump is that of Huck Betts, Boston Brave right hander. With a great finish that promised stardom for him, Betts won 17 and lost 10 last season, pitching in a total of 46 games. He failed to win a game this season until last Saturday when he hurled 3 1-2 innings as a relief moundman.

RED SOX SHOW BETTER FORM UNDER YAWKEY

Senators Defeat Tigers in Ten Innings

By ANDY CLARKE
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The golden boys of Boston have begun to pay dividends on the ambitious investment of Thomas Yawkey.

The Red Sox have climbed into third place in the American League and in doing so have shown class that perhaps presages even a higher rating.

They tumbled the White Sox from third place yesterday with a 9-5 victory. Boston unleashed a 14 hit barrage against John Whitehead and Jack Salveson with Bill Werber belting a homer, Dusty Cooke a pair of triples and a double and Mel Almada two doubles and a single.

It was the 11th defeat in 13 starts for Whitehead, rookie right-hander who early in the season chalked up eight straight victories.

The Sox are six games behind the second place Yankees and 11 behind the first place Tigers.

The Senators took the measure of Detroit yesterday as Earl Whitehill, Washington's veteran southpaw, pulled out with a 4-3 decision in ten innings.

The Tigers tallied all their runs in the third inning when Pete Fox hit his 12th homer of the season with Flea Clifton and Jo Jo White on base.

Whitehill held Detroit to seven hits while the Senators collected 14 off Al Crowder and Elton Hogsett.

Charley Ruffing held the Indians to four hits as the Yankees scored an 8-2 victory at Cleveland, but sloppy fielding on the part of the

Amboy Rallies To Beat Knacks 10-9 In Nine Innings

A seventh inning rally which tied the score at 9 all cost the Knacks Leaders a 10-9 victory in a nine inning softball game played with the Amboy town team at Amboy, Tuesday night.

Although hampered by the sandy condition of the field, the Knacks outthrew their rivals 12 to 8, Clark hurling for the Leaders with "Brownie" Wedlake behind the plate. Craubber was Amboy's twirler. The Amboyites scored four runs in the seventh to tie the score.

The Knacks counted a home run by "Brownie" Wedlake. He also knocked another long hit that would have been good for a homer but he failed to touch second base on his circuit dash and was called out.

The Knacks will play Ashton on Thursday night at Ashton.

Indians gave their opponents six unearned runs.

Beside twirling fine ball, Ruffing whacked a double against the left field wall in the eighth to score two runs. Blondy Ryan, the Yankees' new acquisition, added another in the eighth with a single.

Earl Averill scored both of Cleveland's runs.

The Philadelphia Athletics maltreated four St. Louis hurlers to pound out a 14-1 victory. They blasted out 17 hits, every man in the athletic lineup except Marcum entering the scoring column.

No games were played in the National League yesterday, but the Cards move into New York as guests of the Giants.

As the league leaders battle it out on the Polo Grounds, they will have an eye cocked in the direction of Brooklyn, where the Cubs, right on their heels in third place, take on the Dodgers in a five game series. Both play doubleheaders today.

COACHES MEET FOR AGREEMENT ON GRID RULES

Thomas in Hospital With Arthritis; Drills Begin

Chicago, Aug. 14.—(AP)—Coaches for the college All Stars of 1934 will meet with George Halas, owner-coach of the Chicago Bears tonight to agree on rules to be used in their football game at Soldier Field, August 29.

Although the collegians indicated they would insist on the use of the college forward pass rule, Halas hoped to obtain a compromise by which the college rule would be in force during one half and the National pro rule the other. Under the college rule, the passer must be at least five yards behind the line of scrimmage. Professional rules allow a pass from any point behind the scrimmage line.

Bachman Takes Reins

With head coach Frank Thomas of Alabama in the hospital suffering from acute arthritis, Charlie Bachman of Michigan State took charge of the All Stars today as serious drill began. He was assisted by Doc Spears of Wisconsin and "Slip" Madigan of St. Mary's. The offense will be built around the Notre Dame shift as 12 of the 43 players were drilled in their college days by Notre Dame graduates.

Up at Delafield, Wis., where the Chicago Bears were drilling, Owner-Coach George Halas was looking for a quarterback to replace Carl Brumbaugh, who advised him that he had signed as an assistant coach at the University of West Virginia and would not be back.

"Shires" Miller Reported Signed By Bloomington

Lloyd "Shires" Miller has signed a contract with Bloomington's baseball nine, farm club of the St. Louis Cardinals, it was reported Tuesday night, the contract to take effect in 1936.

Miller went to Bloomington, Sunday, and received a tryout with the club. In his first trip to the plate he slammed a long hit into right field and added a triple into deep left later in the game.

Managers were so impressed by Miller's work that he was offered the contract.

Speedboat Races at DePue Sept. 2

The DePue boat club has announced a program of speedboat races to be held on Lake DePue on Monday, Sept. 2, Labor day, which are expected to attract a large gathering. The McClannahan brothers of this city have entered their craft in several of the events, the races to be conducted under the mid-western power boat rulings. This is the fourth annual meet on the beautiful Lake DePue and a year's program attracted a gathering of 25,000 spectators. The lake at DePue is one of the finest racing courses in the central west and the races being held on Labor day should attract a large gathering from this section.

KOL-MASTER STOKERS

WHY?

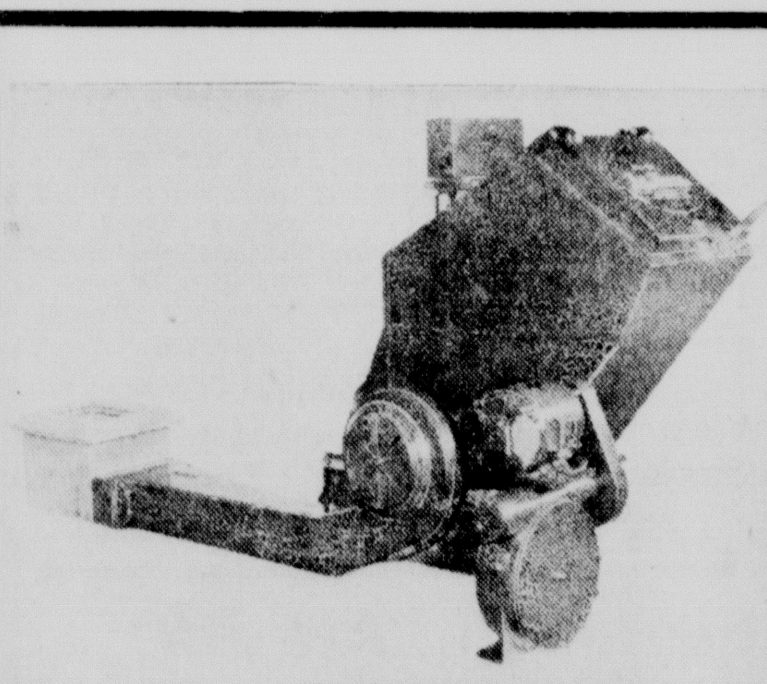

Because they have proven their worth in trouble-free operation, extraordinary low operating and maintenance costs, and greater efficiency than ANY OTHER STOKER on the market. We can prove these statements.

KOL - MASTER production is more than doubling itself each year. Quality and performance is the reason. This is what you should look for in the Stoker you buy.

WHY....

this is a good time for you to sell chickens

The majority of folks are holding their chickens. And whenever they do that, a man who is wise will SELL!

The best rule for making money is to do just the opposite of what others are doing.

Now you can get a good price for heavy chickens. Take it! There are a lot of chickens in the country that will have to be sold. And a person doesn't have to be very smart to figure out what will happen to the price if everyone starts selling them at once.

Market your chickens sensibly:

Watch the springs closely and keep selling them, a few at a time, as they reach 5 lbs.—beginning NOW!

KNOX' BOOM FOR PRESIDENCY IS LAUNCHED TODAY

New Hampshire Republicans Start Campaign at Great Rally

Hampton Beach, N. H., Aug. 14.—(AP)—Republican leaders of New Hampshire, where the first primaries of 1936 will be held, gathered here today prepared to launch a campaign for the nomination of Colonel Frank Knox, Manchester, N. H., and Chicago newspaper publisher, as the Republican presidential candidate next year.

Colonel Knox was the central figure and the principal speaker of what was announced as an "outing" of the Rockingham County Republican Club. But others prominent now or in the past in the councils of the party, among them George H. Moses, former United States Senator from this state, who declared Knox now has "more support than any other man" for the presidential nomination were on the program.

U. S. Senator Henry Keyes, whose term expires next year, was another on the program, along with Governor H. Styles Bridges.

Charges Repudiation
Drawing upon the 1932 Democratic platform for six planks, Colonel Knox outlined a party platform which he declared represented "the utter repudiation by Roosevelt and his New Deal administration of sacred promises."

Presenting the planks in answer to Roosevelt's "reiterated demand for a substitute program," the publisher recommended, for adoption by his party, a number of planks "taken, literally, from the Democratic platform of 1932."

"They represent principles upon which all those opposed to the radicalism of President Roosevelt can support the Republican party," he declared.

Suggested Planks
Colonel Knox suggested that the following planks be included in the next Republican platform:

"1—An immediate and drastic reduction of governmental expenditures.
"2—Maintenance of the national credit by a Federal budget annually balanced.
"3—A sound currency to be preserved at all hazards.
"4—Unemployment and old age insurance under state laws.
"5—Strict and impartial enforcement of the anti-trust laws to prevent monopoly and unfair trade practices.
"6—Opposition to the unsound policy of restricting agricultural production."

Lack of Trustworthiness
Colonel Knox said: "It is a lack of trustworthiness and loyalty to pledged word and principle that has created an universal lack of confidence in the administration by the entire American business community."

"Ever since June of 1932, every single industrial nation in the world has been showing steady improvement in business and industrial conditions. We alone, who should have led, have lagged in the procession and even Canada and Mexico have outstripped us, and England, loyal to economic verities recognized by impartial economists the world around, has led in the prosperity parade."

"Out of the calloused indifference of the Roosevelt administration to its pledges to the public, we can and must construct a program of economic fundamentals and provide convincing evidence of our security."

Higher Birth Rate Reported In State

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 14.—(AP)—Illinois birth rate made its most substantial gain in a decade during the first half of 1935, state health director Frank J. Jirka said today.

From January 1 to June 30, 50,022 babies were born, a thousand more than for the same part of 1934, Dr. Jirka said.

The director said the birth rate in Chicago showed an increase of 12.87 over the first half of 1934 while downstate showed a decrease of 2.87.

The mortality rate also is running an unusually favorable course, Dr. Jirka said. June, with 5,572 deaths recorded, had the lowest mortality of that month in any year since 1932. It was also the lowest monthly mortality in the first six months of the year by nearly 1,000 deaths.

The records show 44,489 deaths for the half-year against 44,408 for the corresponding period last year. Although this was an increase of 81 deaths, the director said the mortality trend had been downward since January.

Reinhart Schnell, attendant at the Dixon Municipal airport submitted to an operation Monday the removal of his tonsils. An indication of the success of the operation was demonstrated today when he made several flights from the airport in his instructor plane.

REVIVAL AT BAPTIST

Our evangelists were tonight faced by a large and attentive gathering. Keith Taber led in a beautiful song service. A deputation from the Morrison Baptist church was present with us and Rev. and Mrs. H. P. Melma sang a beautiful duet, "He Was Nailed to the Cross." Rev. Roy O. Beaman announced that he would speak every evening at the beginning of the service on the subject "What Baptists Believe" for five minutes. Tonight he spoke about the "Bible and Why We Believe It." The Bible he said is the word of God. It is God's message to man and its chief subject is Salvation. The Baptists have no creed but the New Testament. We believe it is the final revelation of God. Not what I understand nor what other have told me but what God has said binds me. We are not bound by a confession of faith nor a creed but we test all things by the word of God. In doctrine if its in the Bible we believe it, if its not in the Bible, we don't believe it. Keith Taber sang "Tell Me the Old, Old Story." After leading in prayer Brother Beaman read Ephesians 2, verses 4 to 10 and took for his subject, "What Is Salvation?" This is a simple and foundational question, answer it aright and it means eternity with God. Answer it wrong and it means eternity without God. What is implied in the word first it means a danger from which we can be saved. Second it means that we are exposed to this danger. Third it tells of one who delivers from this danger. Do not choose from the word of God but take it as a whole. If we believe in Heaven we must also believe in hell and judgment. A man in Kentucky was condemned for murder to the electric chair. For two years he lay in prison awaiting execution but finally he was executed so we are condemned already if we do not believe in the only begotten son of God. The pastor closed in prayer. Every morning there will be services in the church at 10:30. Prayer meeting at 7:15 P. M. Evening service at 7:30. Come and hear these gifted servants of God proclaim the Master's message.

GOSPEL TENT NEWS
Great spiritual blessings are to be had at the Gospel tent, First street and Van Buren. Evangelist Russell McNamara returned last night from Chicago after spending Monday at his home. He came back all refreshed in the spirit and bubbling over in Jesus and delivered a soul stirring message on the "Longsuffering of God." Hearts were stirred and precious souls were saved and won to Jesus. Friends everywhere are invited to these revival services.

Evangelist McNamara will be speaking every night this week including Sunday. A special meeting is to be had Friday evening when he will be bringing testimonies of "Miracles of God's Grace" or happenings down on the "dead line" on old Madison street in Chicago, where his gospel mission is located. Come and hear how God called him to the mission and hear the testimonies of notorious characters that were saved.

"For when we were yet without strength, in due time, Christ died for the ungodly."—Romans 5:6.

SCARBORO NEWS
Scarboro.—Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Ellsworth visited in Rochelle on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hunt and daughter Helen who have been visiting at the George Noe home have returned to their home in Champaign.

A number of families from this vicinity had a picnic dinner at the Pines state park last Sunday.

A free show is advertised for one week in this town beginning Aug. 12.

Wallace Wagner and wife from Lansing, Mich., are visiting at the home of the latter's sister, Mrs. Carrie White.

Mrs. Sarah George of Paw Paw visited in town on Thursday and attended the Ladies Aid meeting.

Mrs. Lucian Rees visited in Lee Center on Monday.

MANY ON RELIEF HAVE GIVEN UP DESIRE TO WORK

Chairman IERC Facing Problem in What to Do With Them

Chicago, Aug. 14.—(AP)—John C. Martin, chairman of the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission, today described in an interview what he considered "the biggest problem facing the state—the removal from relief rolls of a considerable number of persons who have no wish to go back to work."

Martin, former state treasurer, member of the state tax commission and Salem banker "when I find time," was named head of the commission when Robert J. Dunham, Chicago, resigned to head the Illinois works progress administration.

"I learn, from many sources," Martin said, "that the demand for skilled workers at some trades far exceeds the supply available in the localities affected."

"For example, the mayor of a town was in my office earlier in the week seeking certain work relief project continuations. In the course of our conversation he told me that a factory in his town sought 35 molders, at $1 an hour, last week, but that none were available."

Lost Desire to Work.
It is the unskilled laborer who makes up a considerable percentage of the more than 275,000 families now being cared for in Illinois by state and federal funds.

"Many of these people," he said, "went on relief with reluctance. But once on, they gradually lost their desire for work, and now they won't get off. What the commission must discover is some method to make relief less attractive."

A plan whereby the amount of relief is decreased as the time an individual has been drawing this help is increased was mentioned by the commission chairman, though he denied he had any present plans looking towards putting this system into effect.

"It is my hope that WPA will take the larger part of these unskilled relief clients," he said. "The commission has voted to abandon all work relief projects not later than September 30, but I hope that it can do so before that date."

Leader of German Sect Faces Trial
Berlin, Aug. 14.—(AP)—Joseph Weissenberg, 79, founder and leader of a religious sect which bears his name, has been arraigned in court charged with immoral practices in respect to young girls in his congregation.

Weissenberg, whom his followers address as "Divine Master," started life as a shepherd boy. Then he is stated to have discovered he possessed magnetic power. He founded "The Evangelical Church According to the Revelations of St. John," acquired a fortune, 1600 acres of property, and his own sectarian newspaper.

The Weissenberg sect, until this year, had 350 branches throughout Germany, with 17 of them in Berlin alone. It was dissolved this year.

Weissenberg was arrested May 18. He told the court he was able, by supernatural powers, to raise the dead to life and offered to produce a case in proof.

Many witnesses were summoned to testify.

STOLEN PLANE CRASHED.
Kankakee, Ill., Aug. 14.—(AP)—An airplane reported stolen from Paul Jankovich, Gary, Ind., was found crashed and abandoned in a field near here today. No trace was found of those who may have stolen it, nor were any witnesses to the plane's landing discovered.

Hear Mrs. George B. Simmons of Marshall, Mo., at Amboy fair grounds next Thursday afternoon, Aug. 22. Everyone welcome.

Bob Clairmont, Greenwich Village's recently elected poet laureate, once known as "the Playboy," went through a fortune of $350,000 in a few years.

PLAN FOR UNION OF METHODISTS NOW SUBMITTED

Adoption Would Make it Largest Protestant Church in World

Chicago, Aug. 14.—(AP)—A plan to unify all factions of the Methodist church into the largest Protestant body in the country was given to a conference of church leaders today with the dictum: "Now or never."

A constitution for the united church—ending century-old differences between the Methodist Episcopal Church South and the Methodist Protestant Church—faced a showdown at the hands of a joint commission of the three groups. Unless the commission approves it and sends it to the general conference for ratification, the church will probably never be united, commission leaders declared.

Twice before merger plans were proposed. Each failed. In 1920, the southern Methodists advanced a plan for unity and the northern turned it down. Six years later the north branch drafted a plan and the southern rejected it.

Framers Confident. This time, the commissioners are confident the merger will go through, forming a denomination of 10,000,000 strong.

Final details of the constitution on which the union would be based were worked out yesterday by a "plans" committee of 15 men. As presented by this committee to the full commission of 65 to-day at Evanston, the constitution retains the old form of Methodist doctrine and administration.

The three general conferences are continued under its terms, and in addition the country is divided into six regions, each with its own bishop.

For the first time in Methodist history, Negro communicants are given a regional conference of their own.

The merger will affect Methodists all over the world. Separate conferences will probably be set up in Asia, Africa and Europe.

New Arrangement. Missions and educational institutions will be administered under a new arrangement.

If the constitution is approved by the commission it will be presented to the general conference of the north branch and the Methodist Protestants in May, 1936, and to the southern conference in 1938.

Their action will decide whether they will bury old troubles and restore Methodism to the united state it enjoyed before the Civil War, when the north and south split over the slave issue and border Methodists left the fold in protest against bishops ruling the church.

Action on War Bill Put Off Until Next Session of Congress

Washington, Aug. 14.—(AP)—By agreement with the senate munitions committee, action on the drastic war profits bill was postponed today until the next session of congress.

This decision was announced by the senate finance sub-committee which received the bill after it was drafted by the munitions investigators.

The legislation was written after the munitions committee spent months studying profits made by manufacturers of war materials and other industries.

A war profits measure has been passed by the house, but the senate investigators proposed a completely new bill. It included a tax schedule designed to take all but $10,000 of individual earnings and all but a maximum of 3 per cent of corporation earnings during wartime.

In addition, it would have placed industrial leaders under military jurisdiction while the country was at war.

10,000 EXPECTED SCOUTS' CIRCUS

Will Be Held at Rochelle Last Wednesday and Thursday of Month

Ten thousand people will attend the Rochelle Boy Scout circus and farmers' picnic at Rochelle, Wednesday and Thursday, August 28 and 29. Lee and Ogle county troops will participate in the circus.

Scouts will pitch their tents on the Rochelle golf links across from the swimming pool at Spring Lake and at 7 P. M. a swimming meet will be held all troops participating. A Court of Honor will be held the same evening, Wednesday, in which two Eagle Scouts will get their badges. They are Jack Keegan Scoutmaster of Troop 64, Polo, and Paul Gambo, Troop 106, Byron.

A parade will be held through the business district of Rochelle Thursday morning directed by E. N. Bower, Dixon. The Scout circus proper begins Thursday afternoon in Memorial park. Exhibitions will include sculling, pioneering, first aid Scout contests, bugling, knot tying, wood chopping, signal towers, etc.

General chairman for the big affair is William Hunt, Rochelle. Other committee chairmen are Howard Grew, Rochelle, swimming; O. A. Henke, Mt. Morris, publicity; Enos Kietheley and D. C. Findlay, Dixon and Mt. Morris, exhibits; Seth Foster, Rochelle, circus; C. A. Hill, Rochelle, registration; Harry Ingleson Dr. C. B. Motling, Rochelle camp; E. N. Bower, Dixon, parade.

Frank Carney, prominent Rochelle merchant will award a silver loving cup to the troop making the most outstanding record in events for the two days. As the circus is an annual affair at Rochelle, the cup will become the permanent trophy of the troop winning it three times.

Roosevelt, Hoover Have One Thing in Common: Stamps

Washington, Aug. 12.—(AP)—President Roosevelt and former President Hoover have been disclosed to be fellow stamp collectors, despite political differences.

At the opening session of the golden jubilee convention of the American Philatelic Society the collectors listened to a message from Roosevelt that extended a "welcome to fellow members" and lauded selection of "the nation's capital for this auspicious meeting."

Then the convention was told Hoover had applied for membership in the national society and the Washington group, host for the meeting. Officials said the former president will be granted both memberships.

Secretary Ickes, like the president a member of both groups, termed himself "only a common barnyard collector" in welcoming the convention.

"I have a lot of fun collecting and I think we should do everything we can to advance the hobby," he added.

MICHIGAN SOON TO TAX FELONS FOR EXPENSES

New Law Authorizes the State to Levy Tax Against Estates

Lansing, Mich.—Michigan's convicted criminals will have to pay for their room and board while they are in prison, under a new law which Auditor-General John J. O'Hara is preparing to enforce.

The Delano act, passed by the recent legislature, provides that inmates, if financially able, must pay to the state the cost of keeping them in prison.

Under the act, the state may seek to reimburse itself for the cost of either old or new inmates. It provides specifically that proceedings "may be begun at any time after admittance" to penal institutions, and collections may be made over the entire period of confinement.

Property Liable to Levy
Whenever a person is admitted to a prison, the attorney general may file in the sentencing court a claim against the new inmate's estate, the law provides. Upon court order the estate or property becomes liable to levy. Collections may be enforced in the usual way through foreclosure proceeding, but properties must not be sold at foreclosure until after 60 days have lapsed after a final court decree.

"Why shouldn't a prisoner who has money pay for his keep?" O'Hara asked. "For 12 years Michigan has levied against the estates of insane persons committed to state hospitals, but not against sane criminals. We collect money from about five per cent of the mental patients," he continued. "Just how much we will collect from prison inmates is problematical."

By a 1932 statute applying to the insane, the state in the last year has collected $207,392 in cash and about $100,000 in securities and real estate, O'Hara said. In state hospitals for mental patients there are about 15,200 inmates and state penal institutions have about 8,000.

Financial Data Required
Provisions of the Delano act require all prison wardens and local law enforcement officials to furnish on request "all information available on the financial responsibility of said prisoner." Information blanks are being drawn in O'Hara's office, and will be distributed soon.

O'Hara and county prosecutors are empowered to ask for a guardian for the inmate. The law states:

Down to a Shadow of Himself

Viewed in the light of his former well-rounded reputation, this character portrait of Charles Laughton shows him reduced to a mere shadow of himself. Vigorous training has cut down the English actor's weight by 50 pounds to a more presentable 165 pounds. He did this in preparation for his next picture which he will make soon in England.

Beniamino Gigli, Italian tenor who left the Metropolitan a couple of seasons ago, will sing opera as well as concerts this fall in the United States.

The famous Goldman band just has played its 1,000th concert in New York, Edwin Franko Goldman, its conductor, never has missed a concert in all that time.

"If it shall appear that such person or prisoner has an estate which ought to be subjected to the claim of the state . . . the court shall make an order requiring the guardian or any other such person or corporation so possessed of the estate belonging to said prisoner to appropriate and apply such estate . . . toward reimbursing the state for expenses incurred by it on behalf of such prisoner."

"The law recognizes that inmates with smaller estates may have families or other dependents," O'Hara said. "It states that regard is to be had to claims of persons having a moral or legal right of maintenance out of such estate."

Discretion To Be Used
"We will be careful not to levy upon an estate if it would force an inmate's family to seek welfare assistance. Such a situation would not benefit the state," he added.

O'Hara pointed out that the Balfe McDonald type of inmate obviously will come under the new law. Young McDonald, serving a life sentence for the slaying of his wealthy mother in Flint, will receive about $250,000 from her estate when he is 21, according to O'Hara.

Before becoming auditor-general, O'Hara was prominent as a prosecutor. The collections possible against insane persons but not against sane criminals attracted his attention. He advocated passage of the law to remedy this condition, which was introduced in the house by Rep. F. Delano, R., of Kalamazoo.

The famous Goldman band just has played its 1,000th concert in New York, Edwin Franko Goldman, its conductor, never has missed a concert in all that time.

Mrs. W. L. Reigle and daughter Miss Bertha and Mrs. Wilbur Breunier plan to motor to Rock Island Wednesday. They will be accompanied home by Miss Signe Larson, who will visit at the Breunier home. Miss Larson is a former teacher in the high school and has many friends here who will be glad to meet her.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Helfrich and family and Miss Josephine Salzman of Dixon were Sunday evening callers at the James Reid home, west of town. Their daughter Miss Mae Helfrich accompanied her parents home after a visit at the Reid home.

Mrs. Wilbur Breunier entertained the Contract Bridge club on Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Chas. Jenkins of Evanston was an out of town guest.

Little Girl Honored

Joan Spratt was one of the lucky forty-seven chosen from 3,000 pictures of children, by the Warner Bros., who are making a search for children for the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer for new screen personalities. There were 25,000 entries and from that number 3,000 were chosen and from the 3,000, 47 were chosen among which was Joan.

Thursday night Joan with 22 other children from the Englewood district appeared before the "Mike" and three judges from the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Co., from the twenty-three Joan was the lucky one from that district to appear Thursday of this week before C. Edward Carrier, test director of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Co., at the Stratford theater in Chicago for an actual film and talking test. Receiving the same test as the regular actors do in putting on a motion picture. In taking a test of this kind in Hollywood a cost about $300.

The picture of Joan was sent to Warner Bros., in California by Mrs.

Claudy, of whom Joan has taken reading lessons of the past three years. The entire affair came as a complete surprise to Joan's parents as they knew nothing of the picture having been sent.

Joan is the six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Spratt of Chicago, former residents of this community. Mrs. Spratt will be remembered as Miss Ruth Patch before her marriage. Joan is the niece of Mrs. Roy Shoemaker of this place. The little girl is well-known here having visited here many times. Her friends both young and old are hoping that she may be chosen as one to go to Hollywood. The Chicago Times in the Sunday edition had a picture of Joan.

Centennial Homecoming

At the homecoming two years ago sponsored by the Franklin Grove club of Chicago, Miss Adella Helmershausen referred to the fact that the village of Franklin Grove would be 100 years old in 1935. And also suggested that Centennial homecoming be planned for Labor Day, 1935. Last year there was no homecoming here as all efforts were being saved for the big event. Miss Adella Helmershausen was appointed president of the Centennial Homecoming and is working hard to have a program ready for publication very soon. It is now planned weather permitting to have a big all day day on the camp ground. The morning will find friends, coming from far and near to have a picnic dinner on the old camp ground. It is planned to have some kind of entertainment in the morning. Of course the main idea throughout is for friends to greet friends and spend as much time as possible visiting. Free coffee and lemonade will be provided for everyone on the grounds with a picnic dinner especially. It is planned also to have a stand on the ground where ice cream and sandwiches may be purchased. After dinner the program will be held in the large auditorium. It is planned to have a few speeches of but a few minutes long to be given by former residents and old-time friends. After a brief program, the rest of the afternoon will be spent in visiting.

We wish to make it very clear that the Centennial Homecoming will not interfere in any way with the big centennial jubilee which is being sponsored by the village board, and neither will the jubilee interfere in any way with the homecoming. They are two separate events. The homecoming on the camp grounds during the day and the jubilee on main street in the evening, or perhaps as soon as the homecoming is over at the camp grounds, Mayor Spangler informs us that everything is moving along nicely for the big jubilee. Several booth spaces have already been taken. The Franklin Grove band will give a concert and there will be other entertainment as well. Just a real big old-fashioned jubilee. Everybody will be here and everybody will have the time of their life at the old home town September 2, Labor day and night. Watch items for further particulars of the jubilee and also for the program of the homecoming. The latching is out to everyone, young and old, former residents and friends who never lived here. The merchants of the town are planning to decorate their windows with articles of antiques. The street with the booths gaily decorated will present a very pleasing and happy appearance. Let's all pull together to make both events a big success.

Honor Class Member

The Merry Maids class of the Presbyterian Sunday school with their teacher, Mrs. Wilbur Dysart, met at the home of Miss Ruth Cupp Thursday evening in honor of Mrs. Myrtle Wetzel formerly Miss Myrtle Gilroy.

Several guessing games were enjoyed by all, after which beautiful gifts were presented. The honored bride responded in a few well chosen words, thanking the teachers and the class for the beautiful gifts.

Luncheon hour was then at hand which consisted of lovely refreshments. And departed for their homes wishing Myrtle a happy married life.

Forward Steps

It is a genuine thrill to us to see how quickly our profession is advancing, both in skill and in public prestige. Hardly a day goes by without some new discovery, some new device to make our service even more perfect.

It is an honor to belong to such a forward-looking profession. And it is equally an honor to serve so many of our townspeople, knowing that we offer them all that science and thoughtfulness can provide to make sorrow easier to bear.

VICE PRESIDENT GARNER METHOD VERY DIFFERENT

Washington — Vice President Garner's method of procedure as presiding officer of the senate is about as unorthodox as can be imagined when the regimes of Charlie Curtis, "Hell n' Maria Dawes and Calvin Coolidge are taken into consideration.

Curtis was a stickler for decorum. Dawes attempted to reform the senate the first time he picked up the gavel, failed, then lost interest. Coolidge never worried particularly.

Garner has made himself a person to be reckoned with in the legislative scheme of things by appropriating the right to name conferences on controversial measures. At the moment, apparently, he is determined to discipline the senate's "bad boy"—Huey Long. His method is typically Garneresque.

At the conclusion of a recent speech by the Louisiana "kingfish" Garner halted senate proceedings long enough to say to the galleries: "The show is over. Occupants of the galleries may go and the senate will get down to business."

"Out Of Order"
Republicans and Democrats alike

in the house seldom miss an opportunity to pay tribute to their lanky, smiling and genial speaker—"Uncle Joe" Byrns.

From a point of vantage in the press gallery, however, on the occasion of his 66th birthday it appeared that "Uncle Joe's" countenance showed more than mere satisfaction when he received his latest tribute.

Representative Ludlow of Indiana who quit the press gallery to become a member of congress, was the spokesman.

"He is distinctly one of us," said Ludlow, "though he sits in majesty over us. We are prone to think of a speaker as a person who is austere, brusque and repellent. However truly that may describe some of the speakers of yesterday, it does not apply to the present occupant of the chair."

With the entire membership of the house on its feet cheering, O'Connor of New York, chairman of the rules committee and one of the three titular leaders of the house asked unanimous consent "that the speaker may proceed for 40 minutes."

"The gentleman is distinctly out of order," ruled "Uncle Joe," his faced flushed, smiling.

Mme. Perkins Ghost-Writes
Madame Secretary Perkins of the labor department is chuckling up her sleeve these days. Her merriment is occasioned by the latest reports that she has been shorn of some of her power as a cabinet officer.

When President Roosevelt signed the Wagner labor relations bill he issued a statement that the labor relations board was to be an entirely independent agency. Immediately the report was circulated that Secretary Perkins was slipping.

What the authors of the rumor didn't know at the time, but do know now, to their chagrin, is that madame secretary wrote the president's statement herself.

Leonardo Da Vinci, famous artist, spent more time in scientific study than in painting. He wanted to fly, and even built plans for a flying machine. He wrote all his theories and observations in reverse, so that they could be read only when held up to a mirror.

ILLINOIS COURT COSTS RUN INTO MANY MILLIONS

Making and Interpreting Law Costs Taxpayers of State Heavily

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 14.—(AP)—Courts and quasi-judicial commissions, together with the General Assembly which makes the laws they interpret, are a considerable factor in the cost of state government, for which $388,999,244 has been appropriated for the two year period ending July 1, 1937.

Salaries of Circuit and City court judges, as well as those who serve on the Court of Claims and the Supreme Court, are paid by the state, which also meets the cost of the Appellate courts.

For the Supreme Court the 1935 assembly appropriated $210,000 with which to pay the salaries of the seven justices in the next two years. It also appropriated $126,860 for the court's expenses. This latter figure does not include approximately $50,000 for the office of the Clerk of the Supreme Court; the $72,000 for salaries for the seven justices' secretaries; the $10,000 annual salary of the court's clerk or that of its marshal, $3,300. Includes in it, however, is the cost of maintaining the Supreme Court building, in which each of the justices has an apartment in which to reside while the court is in session.

Judges of the Appellate courts do not receive salaries as they are appointed to those part-time jobs from the Circuit courts. The expenses of those courts are figured at $275,590 for the biennium, however, and the assembly allotted that sum.

Shorthand reporters for the various courts will cost the taxpayers approximately $500,000 in the current biennium while Cook county's 28 Superior Court judges will receive $412,000 from state funds and the 71 Circuit judges in the state will get $1,022,400.

Efforts have been made in the last two regular sessions of the General Assembly to abolish City courts, which have jurisdiction within a city comparable to that exercised by Circuit Courts, but they have been unsuccessful and the assembly appropriated $161,625 to pay the salaries of these judges.

The Attorney General's office was appropriated $670,820 and $91,600 was allotted as the state's share of the salaries to be paid the 102 state's attorneys in the next two years.

Pensions for retired judges were figured at $80,000 for the biennium and that sum appropriated as well as $37,000 needed to meet unpaid pension claims arising in the past two years. The assembly also appropriated $15,274.52 to the widows of four judges, that sum representing the salaries their husbands would have received between the time of their deaths and the expiration of their terms.

The Court of Claims, which determines claims against the state, was allotted $35,440 for the salaries of its three judges and employees in the biennium. Also appropriated was $322,801.53 to pay claims it has determined and another $150,000 to pay claims it may allow in the next two years.

Each General Assembly appropriates money for the salaries and expenses of the next regular session, so not counting deficiency appropriations made at the last session for sundry purposes, a total of $961,000 was set aside for the 60th General Assembly.

Five quasi-judicial commissions will cost the taxpayers about $2,000,000 in the biennium. The tax commission was allotted $246,960 for salaries and expenses, not including the $30,600 which will be paid in salaries to the three commissioners; the commerce commission received $1,314,870; the civil service commission $9,460; and the parole and pardon boards $242,700.

COUNTESS HAS GONE ABROAD TO FOIL KIDNAPING

However the Woolworth Heiress May Find New Dangers There

London.—In her flight abroad "because," so she says, "I'm afraid of American kidnapers," Countess Hardenberg, Reventlow, the former Princess Mdvani, nee Barbara Hutton, may find a hornet's nest of menaces to her five-an-dime store millions. "I'll be less violent, perhaps, but not less potent. Twenty million dollars, as she is reputedly worth, offers a target that Europe's suave "con-men" are just as likely to yearn after as their brusque brethren across the Atlantic. It will may be that after encountering the delicate nuances of blackmail, high-finance swindling and other forms of old world chicanery, the countess will prefer guards to blackguards. "I am tired of having guards follow me everywhere," she reportedly said, on sailing for Europe with her new husband, the dashing Count Haugwitz. She will not need them abroad. On her arrival at beautiful old Castle Hardenberg, on the Island of Lolland, Denmark, the American heiress saw her fears of the "snatch" racket vanish behind centuries-old moats and grim towers.

England's Record Clean. Even without the moats and towers, she will be comparatively safe. A survey of Europe indicates that kidnaping for ransom is strictly an American institution.

Scotland Yard officials pored through musty records for decades back without finding a single instance in England of "the snatch" for ransom as practiced in the United States.

The nearest approach was the seizure of Dr. Sun Yat Sen in London in 1896; but that had a political background. Dr. Sen having a price of $500,000 on his head following the escape from China. Allegedly kidnaped at the instigation of the Chinese legation here, he was released when the venerable Marquis of Salisbury, then foreign secretary threatened to break into the legation.

As a "big business," kidnaping has never even been attempted in England. Actually, the highest ransom ever demanded according to available records, was $15 which a hotel kitchen porter demanded for the return of a missing child. He had not kidnaped the child, but sent a threatening letter to the parents when he saw an appeal in the papers.

German Penalties Severe. In Germany kidnaping is a term associated with the United States, except for entirely political kidnapings such as the Herr Jacob "snatch" from Switzerland and other Nazi "raids." Ransom kidnaping has little chance of becoming a "favorite sport" in the third reich because the penalties are so drastic that no member of the underworld would think of purloining an heiress.

Moreover, the criminal police of Europe so obligingly exchange information with neighboring countries that it would be folly to attempt to smuggle a "snatch" victim across the border.

In France, Countess Barbara would find much the same safety— from kidnapers, at least. For when the French criminal covets a millionaire's gold he goes after it in more subtle ways.

When practiced at all, the "snatch" in France has usually been for political purposes. The Russian general Alexandre Koutepoff, whose unsolved disappearance ance in 1930 was charged to soviet secret police, was probably the most famous case.

Opera Bouffe Game Ended. In central Europe — Austria, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Rumania and Yugoslavia—kidnaping for ransom also is unknown. There are sections of the Balkans where it used to be a source of steady income for be-ribboned brigands of the type made famous in light operas, but the practice has disappeared.

That condition is equally true in Italy, where Mussolini's strict police system has stamped out the Mafia of Sicily and the Camorra of the mainland cities. Those gentry preferred the "protection" racket to the "snatch" but used to employ the latter occasionally.

One way to free sticky valves is to insert the disconnected end of the windshield wiper hose into a can of valve oil. Suction will draw the oil to the valve stems, and although there will be plenty of smoke because of the oil going through the engine, no harm will be done. When the valves are free the windshield wiper may be connected again.

OLD SHELL GAME ON A NEW SCALE SHOCKS FRANCE

Disappearance of Munitions Troubles Foes of French Fascists

BY MORRIS GILBERT NEA Service Staff Correspondent

Paris—Somewhere, the other day, the usually highly rubber-shod foot of a French munitions dealer slipped, and all France has been treated to a mystery story which would be farce if it weren't so sinister.

Three hundred and ten wooden cases dumped on a dock at Havre were the climax of the melo-comedy. The cases were supposed to contain trench mortars and ammunition, weighing 25 tons.

Instead, they contained cobblestones and sand amounting to just the same weight.

The cases — and possibly their original contents—had just made a round-trip from the munitions works near Paris down the Seine to Rouen, thence out to sea, across the equator to Argentina, and all the way back. Some place between the loading platform of the armaments and the Havre docks factory a careful substitution of rock and sand had been made for the engines of death. Just where this happened is the mystery that is gripping this country.

Are the arms and ammunition still hidden in France, in some depot of the right-wing private armies which today menace the peace here?

Are they far away in the interior of South Africa, on the border of the Gran Chaco?

Are they by some curious legend-dream, in the hands of the enthusiastic but inept soldiery of the King of Kings of Ethiopia?

Or where? The first supposition, the French Surete Nationale says is wrong. A laconic communique has announced that the substitution of paving stones for weapons was not made in France.

Anti-Fascists Alarmed

Left-Wing supporters, fearing the menace of fascism, question this statement. They ask why, if the arms were actually transported to Paraguay, the cases filled with cobblestones should have been sent back. What possible use could that have served, they demand? Also they have the testimony of a Havre geologist, who, after examination of the rock piles encased in wood, has declared that the stone and sand came from the region of Paris.

The second supposition produces even more interesting questions. An international agreement was reached long ago that no powers would furnish arms and ammunition to Paraguay or Bolivia for their Chaco war. France signed this agreement. But to ship arms abroad, anywhere French law requires that the purchaser must produce a permit from his government. This permit must be shown to several ministries in France—the war department, the interior, the foreign office—who must also agree. Therefore, if the shipment was made to South Amer-the French government or else have been contraband.

Brandt Not Accused

No charge of smuggling out of France has been brought against the armament firm—that of Edgar Brandt, who has associations with the Schneider firm—and none is contemplated. Therefore, the shipment was doubtless made with the government's consent. But if it was sent to the Chaco, it was presumably in violation of the international agreement.

Argentina was the country ordering the arms. It was originally stated. But the Argentine embassy here denies any knowledge or participation in the matter.

There the question rests while Frenchmen play the game of mortar, mortar, who's got the mortars?

The solution offered by somebody is that the stones were actually for the sling-shots of the armies of Haile Selassie, King of Kings and Negus of Ethiopia.

Later Summer Best Time for Lawn Work

The time is approaching when work on lawns and the seeding of new lawns can be done under more favorable conditions than at any season. Fine lawn grasses all tend to stop growth in midsummer and their energy revives as fall approaches. This is believed to be governed by the length of the daylight.

From late August to the first of October, the earlier the better, is the most favorable time for the germination of lawn grass seed and the establishment of seedling plants. The growth urge is at its maximum, the weather is cooler, with more plentiful moisture, and with shortening days there is an apparent effort on the part of the plants to achieve maximum strength in preparation for the winter.

The earlier seed is sown, the longer seedling plants have to grow in this favorable period before the ground freezes. After October 1 there is considerable hazard due to

MARKSMEN LINE THEIR SIGHTS ON GRAND AMERICAN

Nation's Leading Target
Men Will Compete in Coming Event

Vandalia, O.—This quiet little Buckeye town will take on the aspect of the Battle of the Marne when the Grand American Handicap trapshoot begins Aug. 16.

For eight days, the boom of shotguns will resound in staid citizens' ears as the largest entry list since 1929 strives to blast those little clay birds and win shares of the $15,000 prize money.

From all corners of the United States, crack shooters will convene here, and nearly 1100 of them are expected to level their sights during the shoot.

The Grand American is to trapshooters what the world series is to baseball, and the Rose Bowl game to football. It was organized in 1900 in New York, when 74 competitors banged away at live birds for targets.

In 1924 the annual event was moved here, and Vandalia field has become the permanent home of the classic. The Grand American shoot climaxes the extent of the program. In addition to it, there is the amateur title shot, doubles championship, state championship, veterans' event, class shoot, preliminary handicap, Vandalia Open Handicap and Open championship.

Champion at 58.
Defending champion this year will be a 58-year-old oil producer of Derrick City, Pa., Lawrence George Dana, who broke 98 birds out of 100 and 24 out of 25 in a shoot-off, to capture the title by the margin of one bird from H. F. Pace, of Mansfield, O.

Dana was shooting from the 17-yard marker, and Pace from the 19-yard stripe.

Never in the history of the tournament has there been a repeat winner, so the odds against Dana will be high.

Battling Dana for honors this year will be practically the same field that shot it out in 1934. Pace again will participate, as will Mrs. Leila Hall, feminine trap artist from East Lynne, Mo., who won third place last year in outlasting four male opponents in a shoot-off; H. Shoemaker of Comanche, Tex.; Walter Beaver, 1933 winner from Beaver, Pa.; Connie Stumph, Indianapolis; Russell Elliott, Kansas City; and other crack shots.

The "Grand" is one of the toughest tests of shooting in competition. Crack players are handicapped on the basis of their scores in registered shoots, and the lower the handicap, the farther away from the targets the gunner has to shoot.

This puts a burden on the good gunners, as is evidenced by the fact that only once in the history of the meet has a winner scored from beyond 23 yards. He was Walter Beaver, who took the title shooting from the 25-yard marker.

Texas Won at 14.
That the high handicap players have the advantage is shown by the fact that the 1925 shoot was won by a 14-year-old Texas boy, Rufus King, who took the title from Rufus King, who took the title from a distance of 16 yards, the same spot where five other high handicap shooters had won it before.

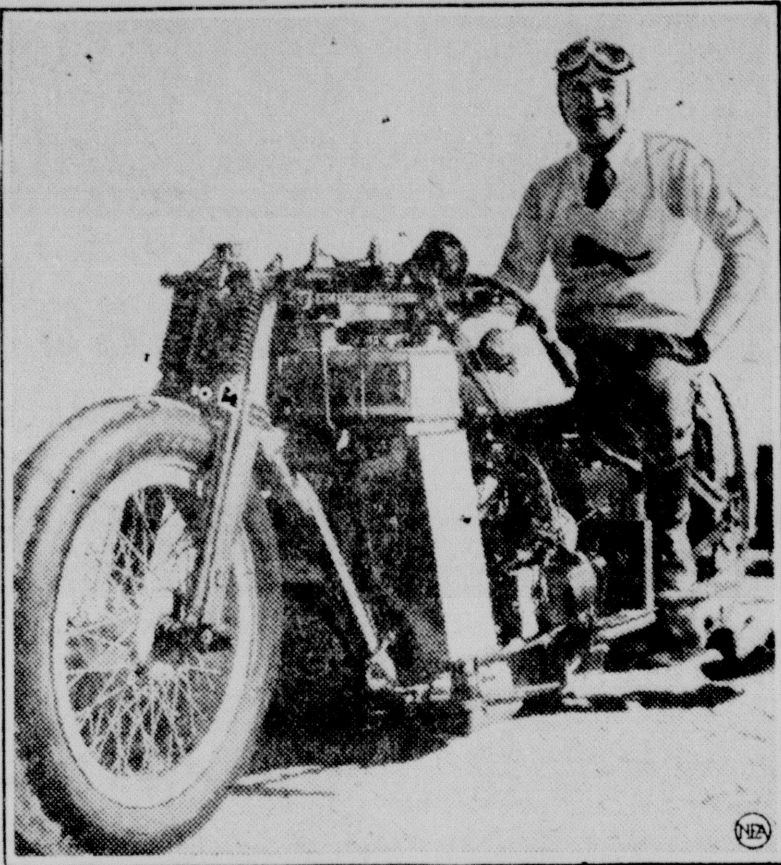

In addition to Dana, other defending champions to take part this year will be:

Walter Beaver, amateur clay target titlist; Mark Arie, Champaign, Ill., winner of the race for state champions; W. A. Tabor, Union City, Mo., veteran race champion; Mrs. John S. Sanders, Keyser, W. Va., winner ladies' amateur clay target shoot; John S. Dick, Jr., Minneapolis, junior clay target champ; Dr. W. E. Fallis, Louis-

Mrs. Bertha Woodward, 45-year-old Seattle grandmother, is shown winning the women's division of a 51-mile walking derby around the shores of Lake Washington. Mrs. Woodward's time was 10 hours, 10 minutes.

Aim Won, Von Mackensen Quits

A striking martial figure despite his 86 years, ex-Field Marshal August von Mackensen, shown in his uniform of the Death's Head Hussars, is expected to spend the remainder of his days in retirement, following his resignation from the Steel Helmets, now targets of a Nazi "purge." The Steel Helmet aim has been realized, says the World War hero, with coming of compulsory military service.

ment administrator, will be to buy a tract of land in a good farming community, take families from areas where they are not able to make a living and re-settle them on the new land. Houses will be built for the settlers and there will be co-operative factories and plants as well as community halls and recreation centers.

Hopes to Expand Schemes

Mrs. Beck hopes that the scheme will include eventually the facilities for helping women to create greater beauty, convenience and efficiency in their homes. She is particularly interested in building and has done a good deal of it. As a matter of fact, she made over the Connecticut farm house in which she lives, drawing all the plans and making the blue prints herself. Then she stayed by until the work was completely finished.

"I was on the job every minute," she confessed, "because I knew exactly how I wanted ever the floors laid. I made a set of plans for every workman so that all would be intelligent and interested in the whole. And you can't imagine what a difference it made in the quality of the work."

Has Own Set of Tools

The farm house is a two-story white frame building with green shutters. Tucked away in it is a kit of super-tools belonging to Mrs. Beck that nobody else is allowed to touch. She likes to do her own repairs and she hates to find that somebody has dulled the delicate edge of a favorite implement. For relaxation, she paints landscapes but never gets time to finish her pictures. She began a snow scene last winter and hopes to complete it next.

"I got my first taste of public work during the war in the Red Cross," she said. "Never since have I been able to loaf. After that I

Ethiopian Amazons Gird for Battle

Ethiopia echoes the adage, "The female of the species is more deadly than the male," as it prepares for war with Italy. Emperor Haile Selassie says that womenfolk will follow his soldiers to battle to carry water, prepare food and care for the wounded. Others, like the lucky lass at right, will be on the fighting front as members of the amazon legion. And, if they follow the tradition of ferocity, these camp followers will rove the battle fields looting and mutilating bodies of fallen foes.

KINGFISH LONG WHOLE THING IN LOUISIANA NOW

Term "Absolute Monarchy" Aptly Describes Condition of State

(Curly-haired Huey Long, the arm-waving orator, the filibuster the uncrowned king of Louisiana. . . . How did he get that way? How much power does he hold in those nervous fingers? How long will he sit on his home-made throne? Ralph Wheatley, chief of The Associated Press bureau in New Orleans, considers those questions in the following article.)

By RALPH WHEATLEY
(Chief Of Bureau, The Associated Press, New Orleans)

New Orleans.—(AP)—Under the rule of Huey P. Long, the state of Louisiana has been turned into as near an absolute monarchy as is possible on the soil of the United States.

Long dominates every public function except the church and the press.

Ironically, his latest acquisition of powers came on Independence day, when, through his legislature, he took over control of motion pictures through a board of censorship and placed under his jurisdiction all school teachers and every other non-elective employee of the state parishes and municipalities.

Capture of New Orleans
Before Huey's latest trip to Louisiana, the city of New Orleans, under the leadership of Mayor T. Semmes Walmsley, represented an organized hotbed of anti-Longism. When he left Louisiana July 17 the Walmsley organization was wrecked and control of the city of a half million population was in his grasp.

Walmsley still was mayor in title but Long had stripped him of almost every vestige of power.

Long took over the purse of New Orleans by placing taxes and licenses under state control. By the same means he obtained control of the city policemen and firemen, the sewerage and water department and he can control all other departments by controlling the money.

Through his legislature he can do the same to any other city.

Long's Duration
How long will he last?

His devoted followers say he will grow in power until he dies. His enemies say he will collapse at the next election.

Persons who think in terms of practical politics say it will take a long siege to "break" him. They explain that Long has all that goes to make a strong political organization—money, jobs, control of police and militia, and control of election machinery. He has a ruthless knack of punishing his enemies and holding out a liberal hand to his friends.

Only one organization threatens to stop him—the Square Deal association.

This group, organized in every parish, is working under cover to defeat Long's candidates for the state legislature, on the assumption that if he is stripped of legislative control his temple will crash.

Other Bosses "Pikers"

Another hope of the anti-Longs is in the break between Long and the national administration.

There have been other state bosses, but never did they have Huey's power. If they could rise from their graves, Penrose of Pennsylvania, Tweed of New York, Hanna of Ohio, Sullivan of Illinois, and Taggart of Indiana would cast

Costly Clowning

Clowning on the train while en route from Washington to Boston, Frank Crosetti, shortstop of the Yankees, suffered a worn cartilage and probably will be lost to the Yanks for a month. Manager Joe McCarthy reports. The Italian lad has been the spark plug of the New York infield this year and his loss will be felt sorely.

Nude Dancing or Marriage— Her Problem

As pretty of face as of figure, Joan Warner, American girl whose near-nude dance in Paris stirred a furore and cost her a fine, has more than her powder puff to think about in her Paris dressing room these days. Deluged with offers of contracts, she is pondering an offer of marriage from a wealthy young French aristocrat whose family, she divulges, would certainly disapprove of their marriage.

an eye toward Louisiana and brand themselves "pikers" as bosses.

They bossed controlling factions but they had real battles at the polls. Never did they think they could absorb a whole state's activities with only feeble opposition.

Huey Long has done this. With a yawn, he mutters: "It looks like the show is over. Everybody is for Huey Long."

Has Eye On Presidency

Who is this Huey Long? He was christened Huey Pierce Long in the Baptist church 42 years ago. His father grubbed for a living on a pig farm in the red hills section of middle Louisiana. He was poorly educated in the country schools, had one year at college and one year at law school.

He became a book salesman, a

Something to Bowl Over Quintuplets

As a result, the Canadian National Railways expressman delivered a crate containing the kittens to the Dafoe Hospital at Callander, Ont.—a pet apiece for the Dionne babies.

lard salesman, a politician, a governor, a United States senator and then boss politician of the state. He is classed as an able lawyer, a champion stump speaker and a cunning political strategist.

He cherishes the presidency of the United States. Failing in that he hopes to be a president-maker.

DAILY HEALTH

RHEUMATIC HEART DISEASE: II

In the previous article we stated that the cause of rheumatic fever is unknown also that there is no specific cure for the disease. These statements may give the incorrect impression that we are entirely in the dark about rheumatic fever.

So far as the cause of the disease is concerned, we have long suspected the streptococcus germ. This suspicion was developed because of the frequency with which tonsillitis or pharyngitis due to the streptococcus germ, was a forerunner of rheumatic fever. Also, by certain skin tests it has been shown that about 75 per cent of rheumatic children are "sensitive" to the streptococcus germ, whereas only 32 per cent among non-rheumatic children show this sensitivity.

Recently a report on certain rheumatic fever research work has come from England, suggesting that rheumatic fever is caused by a virus; that is, by a disease-causing agent much smaller than the smallest germ, and that the streptococcus germ only plays the role of weakening the human body so that the virus can effect its damage.

Time and further study will be required to substantiate or disprove this hypothesis. Of course, discovering the cause of rheumatic fever will not necessarily afford a means for its prevention or its cure.

The symptoms of rheumatic fever are not clean-cut except in its more obvious stages. The onset of rheumatic infection is often signalled by the symptom of fatigability. The affected child tires easily; he may lose weight or fail to gain, and he usually has a poor appetite. The mother may notice that the child gets out of breath a little more easily than before or that his heart beats too fast. But these are symptoms of which the child seldom complains. If the temperature is taken regularly for a week, it may be found to be slightly elevated from time to time.

Such symptoms, while they suggest the possibility of rheumatic infection, may be associated with numerous other conditions.

Tomorrow—Treating Rheumatic Fever

Annoying rattles and squeaks are often quickly eliminated by tightening a screw or bolt in body or chassis.

Two different kinds of gasoline are used by transport planes, operated by one of the larger airlines; one, the highest grade of aviation fuel, for take-off, climb, and under conditions requiring full power; the other for normal climb and cruising.

In the early days of flying, "dope" was used to paint the fabric of planes. It was difficult to obtain, so many ships were heavily coated with glue. When this was nearly dry, an alum and water solution was applied, shrinking the fabric tightly on the ribs.

ARE YOU A SAFE DRIVER?

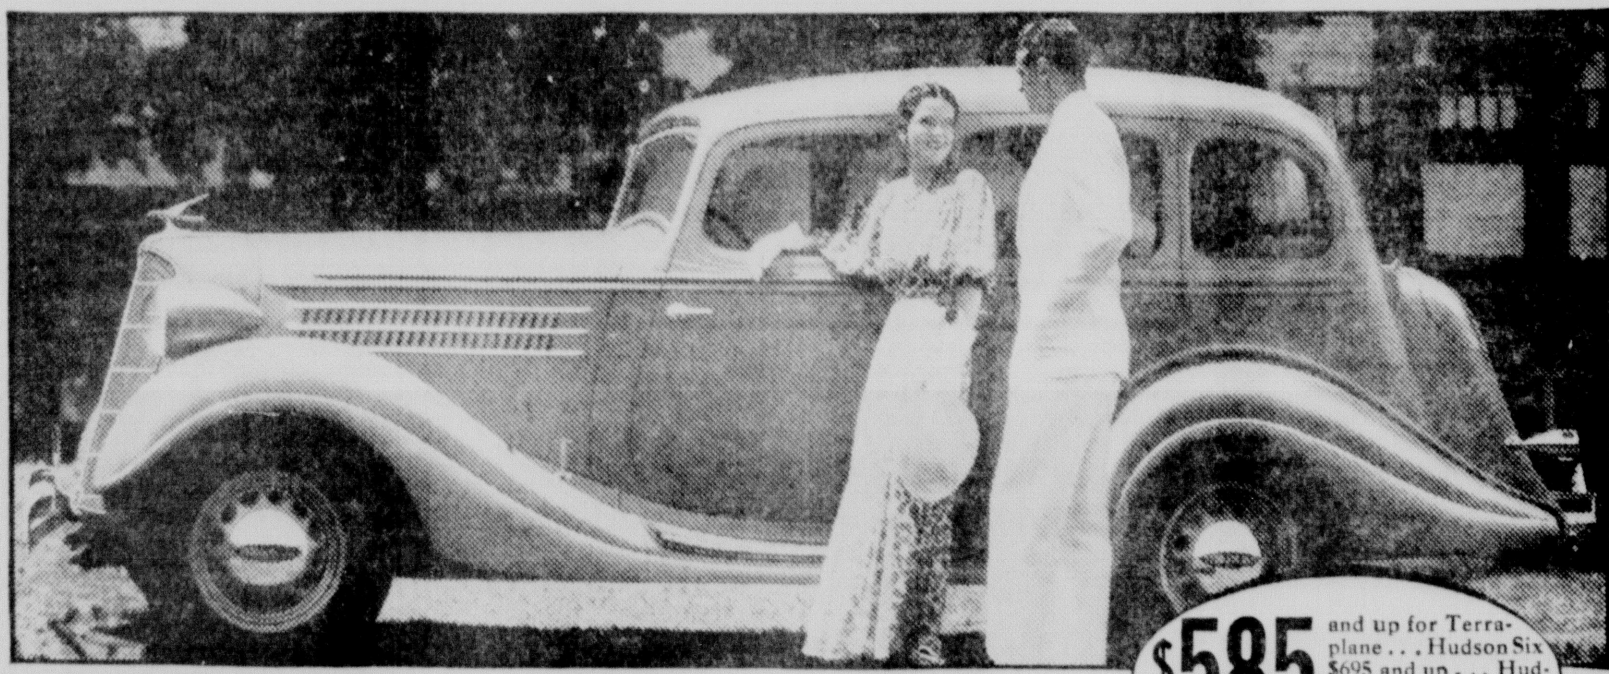

. . . ask yourself these questions

1. Which requires greater caution—a curve to the right or a curve to the left—and why?
2. What is the safest way to handle your car on a highway curve—when do you use the brakes—when do you throw out the clutch—when do you accelerate?
3. In rounding a curve at high speed, is it safer to hold the steering wheel steady or "jiggle" it?
4. In passing another car on the road, is it safer to make a short, quick swing around, or a longer, more gradual one—and why?
5. On a slippery or icy road, your rear wheels suddenly start skidding. What is the way to bring the car out of the skid?
6. When is it safe to pass another car on a hill?

Even the most experienced drivers seldom know the correct answers to these questions. And there are several additional safety questions that every driver should be able to answer. Get them all, and get the right answers, from the nearest Hudson and Terraplane dealer. Come in today.

CENTENNIAL AT FRANKLIN ON LABOR DAY

Greatest Celebration in History of Vil- lage Is Planned

Franklin Grove.—One of the largest—if not the largest—celebrations ever held in Franklin Grove has been planned for Labor Day, Monday, September 2nd.

At this time the commemoration of the 100 years of existence for the village will be combined with a great homecoming celebration, so that it all will be a day ever-to-be remembered.

The idea of the celebration of the Centennial was conceived by Miss Adella Helmershausen over a year ago and it was decided to combine a homecoming with the 100-year observance. So, here we are, all primed with ideas and co-operative plans to make this the biggest of the big days in the history of this yet lovable, old home town.

As tentative plans show, it will be an all-day big time. The morning will find folks from near and far congregating on the old campground of famous origin and history. There will be something doing in the morning, we are advised. Then the picnic dinner, when all the various families, neighbors and friends, will gather to enjoy their picnic lunches beneath the trees of this glorious campus. Everyone is invited to come from everywhere to picnic here. There will be free lemonade and free coffee provided for you. There will be stands on the grounds for the purchase of ice cream, sandwiches and the like. After the picnic dinner, the homecoming welcome and program will be in order, to be held in the spacious auditorium. This is the time when speeches of but a few minutes each will be given by former residents and old-time friends of Franklin Grove; reminiscences, anecdotes and experiences, will, no doubt, then be in order. After this brief program of talks, songs and greetings, then the visiting hours will pass swiftly; and other entertainment will be provided. The afternoon and morning hours will be the real homecoming, home-welcoming hours, interspersed with other amusements.

Succeeding the celebration on the Campground, things are going to begin to happen on main street of the old home-town, and the late evening hours will still the crowds of revellers in the aisles of concessions, booths, attractive displays, etc., which are sure to be spread before the eyes of the visitors to Franklin Grove for this auspicious occasion. It is to be a real lively carnival of events and shows. Every corner will be decorated in beauty and each spot will be irresistible in its attractiveness.

Watch for all further notices of this big day in your home-town, but remember that we will not have room to mention all that will be here for your delight and recreation. It will be a gigantic and complete jubilee and a coming-home you will never forget.

The latchstring is hanging out for you, you wife, your sweetheart, your children, your brother, your sister, your aunt, your uncle, your cousin, your nephew, your niece, and all of the other relatives you have alive. Bring them along to

United States in September to study the feasibility of inducing several Texas farmers to migrate to his territory. He promises them 120-acre farms.

Biggest Crop Expected
Seven million acres of what Senor Castells described as "good cotton land," as awaiting development in the Argentine Chaco, and he feels that a nucleus of American experts would stimulate production, which has increased rapidly since 1929, to the point that a 250,000 bale crop is expected this year, the highest in Argentina's history.

Most of Argentina's cotton will be used by the rapidly expanding national textile industry, booming recently with the establishment of foreign concerns, including two factories owned by American interests which produce for the first time in this country high-grade cotton prints.

Domestic textile heretofore have been mostly of low grade, but manufacturing hasin creased hand in hand with increased local cotton production and restrictions in imports.

Need American Experience
What Argentina hopes to get from Americans who may be brought to the Chaco is the value of their experience, and use it to improve methods of the settlers already growing cotton in northern Argentina. Most of the cotton growers in the Chaco are Argentines from the cereal belt farther south, Spaniards, Czechs, Poles and white Russians, virtually all of them with little or no experience in cotton. Americans connected with the cotton trade, who have visited the Argentine Chaco in the past year returned to Buenos Aires with reports that cotton culture is growing and several million acres of potential cotton land awaits development.

But they likewise found the climate disagreeably hot. Farmers appeared to be making a living, but little more, and the most successful were those with grown children to aid in the arduous labor.

Most of the Chaco settlers live simply, even by United States southern poor white standards, and the general situation was described as arduous pioneering. They were lured there by cheap land.

Agents of Buenos Aires cotton houses purchase the Chaco crop, unginned, at prices considerably under those prevailing in the United States.

Whereas Brazil, Uncle Sam's biggest and newest threat as a cotton competitor, has hundreds of millions of potential cotton acres which may some day be developed.

A road tanker, consisting of a tractor, semi-trailer and trailer said to be the largest in operation, has a capacity of 9050 gallons of gasoline.

Statistics reveal that in 1934 passenger motor vehicles consumed one gallon of oil to every 29.78 gallons of gasoline.

REPUBLICANS TO STAY AWAY FROM THE STATE FAIR

Democrats Will Gather There August 22 for Governor's Day

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 14—(AP)—Illinois politicians, who have been only moderately active during the hot weather are waiting for State Fair week to see how much more information it will reveal about 1936 candidates.

The Republicans will stay away from the fairgrounds when the political rallies are held during the 83rd annual exposition opening here a week from today.

Following custom for the party in power, Democrats have planned to celebrate "Governor's Day" on August 22. As head of the state administration, the center of attraction will be Governor Horner, who has started but not officially announced his campaign for a second term next year.

Since the legislature adjourned, Democratic leaders have been silent regarding the old questions of whether the Governor will have serious opposition in the primary and how the organization state will be drawn for the rest of the ticket.

To Confer On Plans
In addition to the opportunity for oratory, Governor's Day will permit the party leaders to confer about plans for 1936.

Republican leaders have indicated they had no intention of accepting the customary offer to permit the minority party to celebrate during one day at the State Fair.

As a result, G. O. P. activities for the present will be confined to a series of regional meetings being held.

The private explanation of Republican leaders is that an official rally at the fair would permit the erection of "lightning rods" by potential candidates and might enable one faction to take the spotlight.

So far the Republicans have only two announced candidates, both for the governorship. They are Senator Earl B. Searcy of Springfield, who has been speaking frequently, and former Lieut. Gov. John G. Oglesby of Elkhart. Nearly a score of other names have been suggested for the ticket, but the situation has shown few outward changes since the "grass roots" convention.

ILLINOIS STATE FAIR

The Illinois State Fair which opens Saturday, August 17th, and closes August 24, offers $133,000.00 in cash prizes.

The educational and entertainment features of the 1935 State Fair have never been equalled. All leading Departments of the state and the United States Department of Agriculture will have educational exhibits which will prove of much value to the people.

Veterans' Day will be the greatest event of its kind in the country. The 4-H Club exhibits will surpass those of 1934. The Horse Show will be held in the Coliseum this year, with all the leading stables represented. The races will include the largest entry of fine harness horses ever had in the Grand Circuit. You will be entertained each night in front of the grand stand by a complete show, which includes the finest display of fireworks ever offered at the fair. On Saturday, August 24th, the 100-mile Championship AAA Automobile Races will be run. The Beckman and Gerety Carnival, together with the many other attractions will make every day a day of interest to the entire family. The admission to the fair is 25 cents, with an extra charge for grand stand and box seats. It is an ideal place to spend a short vacation with your family. It is your fair—as good a one as will be found in any state in the Union. Take time out and attend the State Fair this year.

"The Best Place in Town To Buy an Automobile"

MORE than often you will find the "best automobile in town" at the "best place in town to buy an automobile." Anybody who is shopping for a car should think as much about where to buy as about what to buy.

The best place to buy an automobile is in an establishment that has not only the intention to make sure that the car buyer enjoys satisfaction in ownership, but also the equipment and responsibility to carry out such good intentions.

Adequate service facilities, modern equipment, abundant parts and supplies, a trained personnel, a strong organization—these are the visible symbols of responsibility for satisfaction in motor car ownership.

Come in and look over the new Chevrolet cars and see what we are doing to deserve consideration as the "best place in town to buy a car."

FRENCH YELL AT TAX PROGRAM IN FORCE; TAKE IT

Premier Predicted He Would Become Most Unpopular Man

Paris.—France is giving the United States a lesson in what to do about a boost in taxes. "Yell, but take it," seems to be the way it works.

Special classes in weeping the biggest fears, uttering the loudest howls, and beating the breast in unison are being held throughout the land as the "grand penitence" commences. The effect is remarkable and floods and earthquakes, noted here recently, have been traced directly to the national cuts and slashes instituted the other day by Premier Laval.

The "grand penitence" is the way Premier Laval decided to save the franc. He had to do this alone, by executive order, since the chamber of deputies seemed unwilling to face the job. The purpose was to balance the budget by slashing almost 700 million dollars in government expenditure. At the same time Laval put pressure on private interests, such as landlords, munitions makers, ordinary income-tax payers, farming interests, banking and business.

Prediction Comes True. Laval predicted, a few weeks ago, that he would soon be the most unpopular Frenchman living. He was right. Everybody in France, from the butcher-boy to the millionaire, is sour. Every Frenchman, however, has one consolation. His neighbor is hurt too. Some people feel the grievance that the rich man isn't taxed as heavily in proportion to wealth, as the poor man. But nobody is left off.

Starting in, Laval reduced direct government expenditures by cutting every possible cost ten per cent. Pensions of war veterans—all but totally disabled—went first. Then came 10 per cent off salaries of "functionaries," government employees. Then, to make everybody happy in misery, he knocked ten per cent off the interest paid on government bonds.

Local government expenditure, as opposed to national, took a beating to the tune of 100 million dollars. The sinking fund got a minor knocking, and the state-owned French railroads must chug along with less state money to the amount of 200 million.

Evening Things Up. Just to make all square, Laval commanded a reduction of ten per cent in rents. To make it up to the landlords, who are as sacred in France as anywhere else, he also decreed a slash in mortgage interest. Next, he cut the price of bread, which for years has been state-controlled in France. And, to make the farmers less unhappy, he tried to balance that loss to them by cutting the legal price of chemical fertilizer.

To keep down the howls that were breaking out in socialist directions, Laval slapped a great big tax of 25 per cent on all profits on munitions bought by the state from France's magnificent armament ring.

He soaked all incomes over $5,000 with a 50 per cent increase in taxes and he eased upon the slashes on the little-salaried state employees by letting them off with a 5 or even 3 per cent cut as opposed to the average 10.

DOGGY ACCLAIM

Seemingly to sense that their mistress, Mrs. Helen Willis Moody, had climbed back to the throne of women's tennis by defeating her old rival Helen Jacobs, in the Wimbledon singles, Jackie and Bessie, her two Sealyham dogs, frisked about her in joy when she returned to San Francisco. Here Mrs. Moody is receiving the congratulations of Jackie, while Bessie challenges anyone to deny Mrs. Moody isn't tops in tennis.

Proof of Scheme in October. Americans will have to wait until next October to know how successful the system of boosting taxes and cutting wages by Laval, really is. For that is the date the chamber of deputies comes back to work. Then Laval's decrees must be ratified.

Meanwhile, there's no doubt about Laval's unpopularity. The low-paid gendarme in a little French village is grumbling that at his wages, even 3 per cent puts him and his children under the famine line. The farmer in the big wheat fields around Le Mans takes his hand off the motor tractor long enough to say that the millers and the wheat combine are passing along the bread-crust to him. The socialist inflationists accuse Laval of being hand-in-glove with the munitioneers and bankers to oppress the poor.

But most of France takes the agony, after a few preliminary howls and tears, the way a rentist's patient takes the pain of a newly wrenched tooth. The swelling may go down some day, he thinks. Maybe the wound will heal.

Retiring future chief executives of the United States will serve 17 days as "lame duck" presidents, despite the 20th Amendment to the Constitution.

DIPLOMAT'S LIFE IS NEVER DULL SAYS MRS. OWEN

Minister to Denmark is Finding Her Work Always Interesting

Copenhagen.—Many a woman can be either a business or social success, but it takes a lady diplomat to combine the two.

And so when Mme. Minister Ruth Bryan Owen sailed Aug. 10 for her 1935 leave of absence in United States, she looked back on two years of dinners, dances and receptions, yet she will not forget the offices of the legation. The business of being a diplomat carries with it regular working hours.

Americans in Copenhagen can call at the U. S. legation any time between 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. and usually find the minister "in". It is only on rare occasions that Mrs. Owen takes time out of her office routine even for luncheon.

When I called on Mme. Minister, she was busy looking over trade agreements between the United States and Denmark. Her desk was piled high with official looking documents and her telephone kept ringing on the average of once every five minutes.

On her current social calendar were plans for the entertainment of one admiral, two captains, 100 officers and 800 midshipmen of the U. S. navy who were due to anchor off Copenhagen within a week.

She had just returned from the annual celebration of 15,000 Americans, Danish-Americans, and interested Danes, held every year at Rebild national park on the island of Jutland.

En route, she had spent a day at Kolding, where she officiated at the opening of a bazaar marking the thirtieth anniversary of the National Federation of Danish Women. In course of two days she had made three speeches, given a radio broadcast, and attended two luncheons, two teas and two banquets.

Is it any wonder the madame laughed and said, "No, this business of diplomacy is never dull. I have no typical days. I never know what will happen next week."

In spite of the heavy demands on her time, however, there appears to be little flurry either at the legation offices near the royal palace or at the official residence 10 minutes' drive away at 20-A Kastels Vej.

Everyone from the office clerk to the Swedish cook swears that the present minister knows how to keep things running smoothly at both home and office.

Guests May Number 300. The average guest list at a dance followed by supper at the legation is 175, Mme. Minister said. At informal receptions held in the garden, as many as 300 guests attend.

Who is invited depends, as in all social instances, on the type of occasion. When the midshipmen dance at her home, daughters and friends of the Danish admiralty and American girls living in Copenhagen assist the minister as hostesses.

One of these American girls this summer is the minister's own daughter, Helen, who is spending her vacation from Spence school with her mother at the legation.

Buyers' Strike Climaxes Roar Against Meat Prices

Housewives' protests resounding across the nation against rising food prices reached a climax in Detroit, when more than 500 militant women massed in front of meat shops and demanded drastic price slashes. Shown here is one delegation carrying banners supporting the buyers' strike. The women scouted at a 5 per cent price cut granted by one chain, declaring they wanted "20 cents a pound, not 5 cents on the dollar," reduction, and threatened boycotting and picketing if their demands were not met.

more than an official setting for diplomatic affairs. It is a gracious home where America meets Denmark in customs, language, furnishings and food and find each other both charming and interesting.

Decorations Portray America. Through pictures she has hung on the walls of the legation, the minister has succeeded in introducing America to Danish and foreign visitors. In the reception room, early American presidents greet arrivals at the legation. On opposite walls of the large, formal drawing room are landscapes showing the extremes of American climate. One is a scene of snow-covered New England in winter. The other is a tropical scene from the southern-most tip of Florida.

Leading the way into the dining room, Mrs. Bryan said, "And it is here that many foreign diplomats have had their first impression of our capital at Washington." Covering the windows of this room in an effect of leaded stained glass are parchment transparencies painted by an American artist. The capitol, Lincoln's memorial, Washington's monument, and the white house all are included in the design, conceived by the minister.

After a dinner—that would feature American dishes if the guests were from Denmark or other foreign countries, or Danish specialties if the guests were American—Mme. Minister leads the way to a coffee room furnished in antique chair covered with fine old Danish needlepoint.

Keeps Greenland Mementos. Another room is a mementos of the minister's recent trip to Greenland. Tiny wood carvings by the Eskimos are all about the room. A rug made of skins of pure white sled dogs cover the lounge and seal skin pillows add to its comfort. Even the lampstand in this room is the tusk of a narwhal.

It was here recently that two-thirds of the feminine diplomats of the world talked over the business of being a diplomat. There are only three and on that occasion it was the soviet minister to Stockholm, Madame Alexandra Kollentay, who was the guest of the American minister. The only other lady diplomat in the world who was not present is Madame Palema Aguirre, Mexican minister to Colombia.

"Had she been here," our own lady minister said, "I'm sure she would have agreed with us that being a woman is not a handicap to our profession and that it is a business admirably suited to feminine capabilities."

Half of Holland's area consists of artificially drained and reinforced marshes. The land is traversed at regular intervals by ditches, each of which leads into a wide canal. Windmills pump the water from these canals to other canals of higher levels, and through these the water runs to the sea.

Egypt's "balloon" bread is made by rolling two pieces of dough as thin as pie crusts and then pinching the ends together. The loaf becomes inflated and resembles an unfilled cream puff when baked.

are in conference where desperate efforts are being made to iron out inconsistencies between two versions of the same bill as passed by the senate and house.

Norris Fights Conference. The row precipitated by house conferees on the holding company bill as to whether the youthful Benjamin Cohen, braintruster and one of the authors of the measure, should be permitted to sit in on the conference as an adviser to senators has focused popular attention on this legislative institution and its workings as never before.

Senator Norris, progressive Republican of Nebraska, for years has warred against what he describes as the "third house" of congress, but the average person probably knew nothing nor was particularly interested in the proposition until now. Norris' solution to the problem, and he has persuaded his state to try it out, is a unicameral legislature. He has hopes that he can induce congress to accept his reform, but the chances for a unicameral national legislature even he admits are a bit slim.

One of the principal objections advanced against the Norris proposal is that it would upset the traditional American compromise between large states and small ones.

Checks and Balances. It also is argued that while the conference committee or "third house" frequently delays the work of congress and sometimes assumes arbitrary powers, there's much to be said for the system of checks and balances under it. There have been examples illustrating this point during the present session. The senate, with such financial experts as Carter Glass of Virginia, has prevented the house from enacting a banking bill regarded by many as inferior to the senate's measure. The manner in which the half-dozen or more conferences on important legislation operate between now and the time congress does adjourn may have a decided effect on the future of the "third house."

The Roman epicure, Marcus Apicius, spent $4,000,000 on odd and rare foods which he imported from every part of the world then known. His lavish living reduced his fortune to $400,000 and he killed himself because he would "rather be dead than eat ordinary food."

Warm days are here - Keep COOL and COMFORTABLE in a FORD V-8

More than ever on hot days you will appreciate the thoughtfulness of the Ford V-8's makers in providing an easily-opened windshield which lets cooling breezes blow through to refresh you. In addition, you have a cowl ventilator and Clear-Vision ventilation in side windows. And on hot days you will appreciate the comfort and roominess of the Ford V-8, the almost effortless handling which allows you to arrive at the end of an all-day journey without fatigue.

The Ford V-8 might have been built especially for warm weather driving—so accurately does it meet summer motoring needs. For instance, Ford is the only car in America which water-cools not only the complete cylinder walls, but also the upper half of the crankcase. This unique 5 1/2 gallon cooling system reduces cylinder wear and greatly lowers oil temperature in the crankcase. This means greater oil economy and is seconded by directed, air-flow, crankcase ventilation which reduces corrosion, lessens oil dilution and cuts sludge formation to a minimum.

In summer and autumn months you and your family spend more time in your car—be sure its engine is designed to run efficiently in hot weather and that passengers will keep cool and comfortable.
